No. 2 Red Talks to Norse

Students Boo Kremlin Aide for Remarks

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Anastas I. Mikoyan planned quiet talks with Norwegian government officials today after a rough reception from students Sunday night.

The students booed the Soviet Deputy premier for charging former Hungarian freedom fighters given refuge in Norway were criminals and laughed at his assertion there are no political prisoners in the Soviet Union.

Mikoyan spoke before the Norwegian Students Assn. shortly after arriving in Oslo for a two-day stopover on his way home from Cuba, where he signed a big trade agreement with Fidel Castro's government.

The crowd of 800 applauded his pleas for peace and the glowing account he gave of the Soviet Union's growing industrial might. But an uproar came when someone asked him about Soviet suppression of the 1956 Hungarian revolt.

Mikoyan replied that the Soviet government had been asked to help crush the "arch-reactionary, criminal, American - instigated rebels."

"And those Hungarian students you have here are criminals with blood on their hands," he added angrily.

The students drowned out the Soviet leader with boos, whistles and shouts.

Mikoyan met with derisive laughter when he declared: "In our country no one is in jail for his political convictions. Our people are so unified that it is not necessary to jail anyone for political beliefs."

Over the laughter he shouted: "In the United States many Communists are in jail, even if they are no danger to the state."

Mystery Subs Still Hunted

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's frustrated navy today pressed its attack on a mystery submarine with new deep - level U.S. depth charges, but the quarry evaded capture.

As the hunt went into its 17th day, naval officials said their ships were being harassed by a second sub which had slipped through the guarded entrance to Golfo Nuevo in an effort to divert the chase from its apparently damaged comrade.

All Argentina waited for "operation sinking" to produce some results after Navy Secretary General Clement's boast Sunday that the search would reach a climax "in a matter of hours."

The United States said it has no information of any of its subs in the area. The British deny the subs are theirs. Argentina's Soviet embassy Sunday night issued a statement saying no Russian warship is near the Argentine coast.

Defense Budget Debate Rages on

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the debate on the size and nature of the military program for next year barely begun, demands are being made to add up to three billion dollars to the defense budget proposed by President Eisenhower.

The military appropriation bill which Congress eventually passes could be influenced strongly by international trends in the interim.

Among other matters, the success or failure of the scheduled summit meeting of Soviet and Western chiefs of state in April and any developments in disarmament efforts could have their impact on what Congress, or indeed, the administration, finally does about the amount of money and the composition of defense forces.

Certainly, new adventures in limited aggression by the Communist camp anywhere in the world could influence the program.

But at the moment, President Eisenhower is adhering firmly to his proposal that military spending be about 41 billion dollars, approximately the figure for the present year.

But influential Democrats in Congress say that more should be spent for defense — for missiles and for other arms.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) wants Congress to add three billion dollars to the administration's military program. He says he is confident the Senate will boost it by a billion, and "I think it should be more."

Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.) says that like the President he favors a balanced budget but "this must not be achieved at the expense of our military muscle."

Missiles dominate the debate today. But the argument branches out, also, to embrace other weapons systems, some conventional, some new.

It embraces, too, the methods of assessing the probability of war—the technique of intelligence evaluation.

The broad topics of debate include these:

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) insists that "the facts are that a substantial missile gap does exist and the administration apparently is going to permit this gap to increase."

Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. concedes the Soviet Union may have more missiles than the United States during the next three years, but insists that the over-all deterrent strength of the United States—in long-range bombers, intermediate range missiles, ship-based planes, Polaris submarines—is greater.

The differences are not exclusively those between the administration and Democratic critics in Congress. The military leaders themselves do not see eye to eye.

Gen. Thomas Power, chief of the Strategic Air Command, said recently that, with no advance missile warning system available, the Soviet Union could fire only 300 ballistic missiles and virtually could wipe out the entire strike force of the United States within 30 minutes. He said only half the missiles would need to be of intercontinental range. He wanted more money to keep some of his strategic bombers in the air at all times.

Under questioning of a House subcommittee, Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, said Power did not necessarily speak the views of the Defense Department. And Eisenhower, in a news conference, commented about parochial views by officers he did not mention by name.

Carole May Give Vital Testimony

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ex-model Carole Tregoff may take the spotlight in the Finch murder trial today.

For two months she has silently watched a courtroom duel with her life at stake.

Soon the fateful decision must be made: Shall she testify?

Red-haired Miss Tregoff, 23, and Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, are on trial accused of murder and conspiracy in the shooting last July 18 of his estranged second wife, Barbara Jean, 36.

For eight days Miss Tregoff watched the rich socialite surgeon on the witness stand as he fought for his life.

Carole is the only one who could support Dr. Finch's claim.

Many Ohio Schools Shut By Heavy Weekend Snow

New Compact Cars Cause 'Revolution'

DETROIT (AP)—The compact car boom has exploded into a full-scale revolution in the auto industry.

Falcon, Corvair and Valiant, plus their slightly older companions Rambler and Lark, accounted for almost 25 per cent of all domestic cars sold in January.

This figure has added significance since January was the only month in the entire first third of the 1960 model year in which supplies of all cars were reasonably good.

"Everything is changing," says Ben Mills, Ford vice president whose Lincoln-Mercury Division is introducing still another compact, the Comet, next month. "A revolution is underway. Nobody knows where it will end."

The 1960 model year was bound to be confusing with the entry of four new cars — the three new compacts and the Dodge Dart—right at the start. It became even more so as steel shortages curtailed production and compounded distribution problems.

Many of the long-range questions, such as who will be hurt and whether foreign cars will dwindle into oblivion, remain unanswered. The only thing definite so far is the new size cars are selling.

The five compact lines sold about 101,500 cars in January against an industry total of 455,000. Rambler's total of 34,949 put it third among all cars with Falcon fourth, only about 2,500 cars behind. Among the five compacts, Corvair ran a distant third with only about half as many sales as Falcon. Lark was fourth and Valiant fifth.

Last August Rambler's George Romney, who finally convinced the Big Three that compact cars were profitable, sized up 1960 as a year in which the industry would sell 1,750,000 smaller U.S. built cars, including 500,000 Ramblers. Right now his fingers look good.

Romney also predicted the medium-price lines would fall on their faces and the tide of imports would be stemmed. In January the medium-price lines dropped 5 per cent from year-ago sales totals while the low-price lines, even with the addition of Dart, were 10 per cent below last year.

One month doesn't make a year, however, and when the medium-price lines bring out their own compacts, such as the Comet, things are sure to change. Lincoln-Mercury expects the Comet to cut into Mercury sales but declines to estimate to what extent.

Compact cars from Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac and probably Dodge will be along in the early fall.

Does all this mean standard-size cars are doomed? Nobody in Detroit thinks so, although Romney says compacts will make up 50 per cent of all car sales by 1963.

Another Appeal Filed by Chessman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caryl Chessman's latest appeal goes today before a three-man panel of the U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals, four days before his eighth date with death in the gas chamber.

The 38-year-old convict - author asked that the nine-member court sit en banc to overrule its chief judge, Justice Richard H. Chambers, who last Monday in Tucson, Ariz., turned down the same appeal, saying Chessman had "heckled his keeper long enough."

Chessman, convicted in 1948 of kidnap, robbery and forcing two women into perverted sex acts in Los Angeles, has been on death row in San Quentin Prison for 11½ years and is due to go to the gas chamber Friday.

Senate Divided into 3 Camps In Civil Rights Bill Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate divided into three camps moves gingerly today into politically charged controversy over civil rights.

Embattled Southerners, expecting the worst, were ready to spring any of several delaying traps against a move to bring a bill before the Senate.

Liberals of both political parties, advocating stronger legislation than even they will say is likely to be passed, pushed for speedy action.

In the middle ground stood Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, heading the forces that want some relatively modest but measurable gains chalked up in the protection of minority voting rights.

None of the three camps had a demonstrated majority as the long-planned starting date of the civil rights battle arrived.

The first test was scheduled late in the day on an effort to call up from the Senate calendar a bill previously passed by the House and attach civil rights proposals to it.

Many days of talk and possible round-the-clock sessions lay ahead. It seemed inevitable, however, that the liberals and the middle ground members eventually would join forces to overpower the little band of Southern dissenters.

If necessary, there apparently would be forthcoming the required approval of two-thirds of those voting to clamp a debate limitation on them and thus guarantee eventual passage of a bill.

What form that legislation might take remained wrapped in doubt as Democratic presidential hopefuls vied with Eisenhower administration leaders to share in the credit for federal aid to disfranchised minority voters.

As a presidential hopeful, Johnson seemed likely to move toward a position where he could attract Northern Democratic support for the nomination. But he could not move so far away from the Southerners as to lose even their begrudging backing as the candidate least offensive to them.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) said the Dixie contingent is under no illusion that it can prevent the passage of a civil rights bill in an election year. He said all of the political trappings are at hand for what he called "a Roman circus" with Southerners as victims.

Foot of White Stuff Piles Up In Some Areas

Northwest Region Misses Storm, but Southeast Socked In

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today was a "White Christmas" holiday for many of Ohio's school children. The weather man played Santa Claus.

That white stuff outside — the snow that piled up as much as a foot in some sections of Ohio over the weekend—clogged roads and made them impassable for school buses.

Enjoying the unscheduled vacation will be school children in some areas of Lawrence, Columbiana and Jefferson counties, and all of Vinton County.

Along with Columbiana and Jefferson counties it's estimated that in a tri-state area including Hancock County, W. Va., and Beaver County, Pa., 12,000 children will stay home from school today.

The weather also cast a gloomy shadow. At least three Ohio deaths were indirectly attributed to it. The three—men in their 60s—died either pushing stalled cars or shoveling snow in Cincinnati.

And there was plenty of snow for Ohioans to shovel. In Marietta and Chesapeake, near Ironton, it accumulated to a depth of 11 inches. At Dam 8 on the Ohio River near East Liverpool, the snowfall measured 12 inches.

Other amounts reported on the ground included: Willoughby 10 inches, Geauga County 8-10, Youngstown 6-10, Piquette 8, Zanesville 7, Akron and Mansfield 4, Columbus, Cleveland and Cincinnati 3, and Dayton 1.

On the Ohio Turnpike, 40 m.p.h. signs were up from the Lorain-Elyria Interchange to the Pennsylvania line.

Most primary roads were open, but many secondary roads were closed due to drifting snow. Bus service between Huntington, W. Va., and Portsmouth ground to a halt as did all city buses in Ironton.

The northwest corner of the state had little or no snow.

The low pressure area which brought the snow to Ohio over the weekend had moved far to the west.

N-S Freeway Building Is Put on Shelf

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio highway director, Everett S. Preston, indicates that work on the southern half of Ohio 1 (the north-south freeway) may not be started for many years.

He also said that the roadway will be re-marked over its entire length this year.

Preston explained that existing highways will be designated to tie in completed sections of the big freeway. He said the markings will be changed as new sections of the freeway are completed so that use of existing routes will not be necessary.

The highway director said traffic studies dictated the sections to be completed first, but a delay in federal funds has complicated completion plans. The big problem is routing the freeway through and around metropolitan areas, he added.

Preston said the direct Columbus Cincinnati section of the freeway might not be built for a dozen years because traffic is heavier on the Cincinnati-Dayton and Dayton-Columbus sectors.

Preston said the Ohio 1 designation will be posted on U.S. 25 north from Cincinnati to Dayton, Ohio 69 northeast from Dayton and U.S. 40 to Columbus.

Britain Is Awaiting Queen's Third Child

LONDON (AP) — Excited Britons began gathering outside the gates of Buckingham Palace early today as the long wait for the birth of Queen Elizabeth's third child appeared nearing an end.

Gray-haired Sister Helen Rowe, the Queen's maternity nurse, moved into the palace Sunday.

The Queen's obstetrician, John Harold Peel, waited at his London apartment only seven minutes drive from the palace.

Drifting Snowfall Loads Area Roads

Pickaway County residents looking forward to a meek and mild winter were jolted Saturday night when "Mother Nature" unleashed a torrent of bitter snowflakes that accumulated up to five and six inches before subsiding.

Actual melted snow totaled a mere 0.15 of an inch but the light, fluffy, powdery snow descended in a heavier layer.

Snow drifts piled over automobiles in some places while there were bare spots in other areas caused by a bitter wind. Temperatures dipped to seven degrees Sunday morning.

Traffic was practically halted Saturday night and early Sunday morning in some places, especially township roads and in Circleville.

AT LEAST 30 minor accidents were caused by the slick and icy highways and streets over the weekend. There were no serious injuries but considerable car damage.

The snow started at approximately 3 p. m. Saturday and state and county highway departments were on the roads by 4 p. m. Both departments have been battling the snow ever since.

The county put eight snowplows and one grader into action, while the State Highway Department has had 12 snowplows, seven salt spinners and one grader at work continually since the advent of the area's first heavy snowfall of the 1959-60 winter season.

State Highway officials said at noon today that all primary roads will be in fine shape tonight but a few are icy in spots.

Secondary roads will be in fair shape by tonight, but caution should be used in driving. County Engineer Henry T. McCrady said county roads are in fair shape but icy in spots. Again caution should be used in driving.

Second state roads are undergoing heavy snow plowing while primary roads are receiving a dense salt application.

IN MISERABLE condition are city streets. One grader is at work attempting to make the streets passable.

Today's bright sun and tomorrow's expected high of 35 degrees are expected to melt much of the snow on the streets to make driving less hazardous.

The Columbus Weather Bureau predicts additional snow late tonight or early tomorrow. Sunday's temperature of seven degrees is the record low for the winter season.

Only Minor Injuries Reported In Icy Road, Street Crashes

Only minor injuries were reported in at least 30 motor vehicle accidents on snow - covered city streets and county roads during the weekend.

Most of the accidents were of the fender - bender variety, although one involved a tractor-trailer assembly which overturned on slippery Route 22, about four miles west of Circleville at 5:30 a. m. yesterday. The driver was not injured.

The State Highway Patrol reported 14 accidents within 15 minutes at a stop light on Route 23 in South Bloomfield Saturday evening. Officers said only slight damage and minor injuries resulted.

A passenger was injured in a collision on Route 188 about three miles northeast of here at 7:15 p. m. Saturday. Injured was Frances McLean, 35, Route 4, Circleville. She was taken to Berger Hospital.

SHE was in a car operated by Arthur S. McClain, 53. The other vehicle was driven by Edward Carter, 30, Route 4, Circleville. The two drivers were not hurt.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Felkey said the McClain auto was stalled on the highway. He said the Carter car slid into the rear of the other vehicle as the driver attempted to avoid a collision.

Another passenger was injured when two vehicles collided at Ohio and Pickaway Sts. at 8:10 a. m. today. Taken to Berger Hospital for head injuries was Charles Lewis, 13.

The youth was a passenger in a car driven by Ralph Lewis, 50, of 219 Second Ave. He was not hurt.

The other vehicle was a truck operated by Charles F. Knox, 45, Chillicothe, also not injured.

Sgt. Turney Ross said the truck was headed west on Ohio St. and the car north on Pickaway St. The vehicles collided in the intersection. Both were slightly damaged, he said.

Khrush Scorns Western Aid

Indians Told Plan Leads to 'Slavery'

BHILAI, India (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev told Indian steel workers today that the emergence of a strong Communist bloc is the only reason the West is granting economic aid to undeveloped nations.

For the second day the Soviet Premier hammered on the theme that Western aid is a new version of old "colonialist policies." He spoke at a steel plant being built here in central India with Soviet assistance.

Khrushchev charged in an extemporaneous speech at a banquet Sunday night that Western aid to India and other undeveloped countries is designed to hold them "in capitalist slavery."

Speaking from a text today, he declared: "The Soviet Union and the West have two different approaches to aid. The Soviet Union strives to achieve economic independence. But some people in the West utilize assistance as a weapon of a new colonial policy."

Only such factors as the development of socialism (communism) and the failure of colonialism brought aid to the undeveloped nations," he told the Indian workers.

Khrushchev accused the West of being interested primarily in supplying consumer goods and keeping new nations without industry. He contrasted this with Soviet policy of giving aid to specific industrial projects. Western aid actually has bolstered the entire Indian economy, and particularly agricultural production in the underdeveloped nation of 415 million population.

Britain Eyes A-Ship

LONDON (AP) — Britain has invited bids for construction of the propulsion unit of the first British atomic-powered ship, a freighter, to be completed by 1964.

Cold
Partly cloudy this afternoon, becoming cloudy tonight. Not so cold Tuesday with some snow likely. High today, 30-31. Low tonight, 18. High tomorrow, 35. Yesterday's high 28, low 18.

Defense Budget Debate Rages on

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the debate on the size and nature of the military program for next year barely begun, demands are being made to add up to three billion dollars to the defense budget proposed by President Eisenhower.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) wants Congress to add three billion dollars to the administration's military program. He says he is confident the Senate will boost it by a billion, and "I think it should be more."

Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.) says that like the President he favors a balanced budget but "this must not be achieved at the expense of our military muscle."

Missiles dominate the debate today. But the argument branches out, also, to embrace other weapons systems, some conventional, some new.

It embraces, too, the methods of assessing the probability of war—the technique of intelligence evaluation.

The broad topics of debate include these:

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) insists that "the facts are that a substantial missile gap does exist and the administration apparently is going to permit this gap to increase."

Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. concedes the Soviet Union may have more missiles than the United States during the next three years, but insists that the over-all deterrent strength of the United States—in long-range bombers, intermediate range missiles, ship-based planes, Polaris submarines—is greater.

The differences are not exclusively those between the administration and Democratic critics in Congress. The military leaders themselves do not see eye to eye.

Gen. Thomas Power, chief of the Strategic Air Command, said recently that, with no advance missile warning system available, the Soviet Union could fire 300 ballistic missiles and virtually could wipe out the entire strike force of the United States within 30 minutes. He said only half the missiles would need to be of intercontinental range. He wanted more money to keep some of his strategic bombers in the air at all times.

Under questioning of a House subcommittee, Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, said Power did not necessarily speak the views of the Defense Department. And Eisenhower, in a news conference, commented about parochial views by officers he did not mention by name.

Ohio Traffic Deaths Limited by Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bad driving weather may have meant some good news over the weekend. Just five traffic deaths were reported in the state from Friday evening through Sunday night. The low toll may well be because motorists, aware of dangerous road conditions, drove accordingly or didn't drive at all.

Three miscellaneous mishaps—two of them carbon monoxide asphyxiations—ran up the total reported Ohio accidental death toll.

Enjoying the unscheduled vacation will be school children in some areas of Lawrence, Columbiana and Jefferson counties, and all of Vinton County.

Along with Columbiana and Jefferson counties it's estimated that in a tri-state area including Hancock County, W. Va., and Beaver County, Pa., 12,000 children will stay home from school today.

The weather also cast a gloomy shadow. At least three Ohio deaths were indirectly attributed to it. The three—men in their 60s—died either pushing stalled cars or shoveling snow in Cincinnati.

And there was plenty of snow for Ohioans to shovel. In Marietta and Chesapeake, near Ironton, it accumulated to a depth of 11 inches. At Dam 8 on the Ohio River near East Liverpool, the snowfall measured 12 inches.

Other amounts reported: Willoughby 10 inches, Geauga County 8-10, Youngstown 6-10, Piketon 8, Zanesville 7, Akron and Mansfield 4, Columbus, Cleveland and Cincinnati 3, and Dayton 1.

On the Ohio Turnpike, 40 m.p.h. signs were up from the Lorain-Elyria Interchange to the Pennsylvania line.

Most primary roads were open, but many secondary roads were closed due to drifting snow. Bus service between Huntington, W. Va., and Portsmouth ground to a halt as did all city buses in Ironton.

The northwest corner of the state had little or no snow. The low pressure area which brought the snow to Ohio over the weekend had moved far to the west.

N-S Freeway Building Is Put on Shelf

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio highway director, Everett S. Preston, indicates that work on the southern half of Ohio 1 (the north-south freeway) may not be started for many years.

He also said that the roadway will be re-marked over its entire length this year.

Preston explained that existing highways will be designated to tie in completed sections of the big freeway. He said the markings will be changed as new sections of the freeway are completed so that use of existing routes will not be necessary.

The highway director said traffic studies dictated the sections to be completed first, but a delay in federal funds has complicated completion plans. The big problem is routing the freeway through and around metropolitan areas, he added.

Preston said the direct Columbus Cincinnati section of the freeway might not be built for a dozen years because traffic is heavier on the Cincinnati-Dayton and Dayton-Columbus sections.

Preston said the Ohio 1 designation will be posted on U.S. 25 north from Cincinnati to Dayton, Ohio 69 northeast from Dayton and U.S. 40 to Columbus.

Britain Is Awaiting Queen's Third Child

LONDON (AP) — Excited Britons began gathering outside the gates of Buckingham Palace early today as the long wait for the birth of Queen Elizabeth's third child appeared nearing an end.

Gray-haired Sister Helen Rowe, the Queen's maternity nurse, moved into the palace Sunday.

The Queen's obstetrician, John Harold Peel, waited at his London apartment only seven minutes drive from the palace.

Drifting Snowfall Loads Area Roads

Pickaway County residents looking forward to a meek and mild winter were jolted Saturday night when "Mother Nature" unleashed a torrent of bitter snowflakes that accumulated up to five and six inches before subsiding.

Actual melted snow totaled a mere 0.15 of an inch but the light, fluffy, powdery snow descended in a heavier layer.

Snow drifts piled over automobiles in some places while there were bare spots in other areas caused by a bitter wind. Temperatures dipped to seven degrees Sunday morning.

Traffic was practically halted Saturday night and early Sunday morning in some places, especially township roads and in Circleville.

AT LEAST 30 minor accidents were caused by the slick and icy highways and streets over the weekend. There were no serious injuries but considerable car damage.

The snow started at approximately 3 p. m. Saturday and state and county highway departments were on the roads by 4 p. m. Both departments have been battling the snow ever since.

The county put eight snowplows and one grader into action, while the State Highway Department has had 12 snowplows, seven salt spinners and one grader at work continually since the advent of the area's first heavy snowfall of the 1959-60 winter season.

State Highway officials said at noon today that all primary roads will be in fine shape tonight but a few are icy in spots.

Secondary roads will be in fair shape by tonight, but caution should be used in driving. County Engineer Henry T. McCrady said county roads are in fair shape but icy in spots. Again caution should be used in driving.

Second state roads are undergoing heavy snow plowing while primary roads are receiving a dense salt application.

IN MISERABLE condition are city streets. One grader is at work attempting to make the streets passable.

Today's bright sun and tomorrow's expected high of 35 degrees are expected to melt much of the snow on the streets to make driving less hazardous.

The Columbus Weather Bureau predicts additional snow late tonight or early tomorrow. Sunday's temperature of seven degrees is the record low for the winter season.

Only Minor Injuries Reported In Icy Road, Street Crashes

Only minor injuries were reported in at least 30 motor vehicle accidents on snow - covered city streets and county roads during the weekend.

Most of the accidents were of the fender - bender variety, although one involved a tractor-trailer assembly which overturned on slippery Route 22, about four miles west of Circleville at 5:30 a. m. yesterday. The driver was not injured.

The State Highway Patrol reported 14 accidents within 15 minutes at a stop light on Route 23 in South Bloomfield Saturday evening. Officers said only slight damage and minor injuries resulted.

A passenger was injured in a collision on Route 188 about three miles northeast of here at 7:15 p. m. Saturday. Injured was Frances McClain, 35, Route 4, Circleville. She was taken to Berger Hospital.

SHE was in a car operated by Arthur S. McClain, 53. The other vehicle was driven by Edward Carter, 30, Route 4, Circleville. The two drivers were not injured.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Felkey said the McClain car was stalled on the highway. He said the Carter car slid into the rear of the other vehicle as the driver attempted to avoid a collision.

Another passenger was injured when two vehicles collided at Pickaway Sts. at 8:10 a. m. today. Taken to Berger Hospital for head injuries was Charles Lewis, 13.

The youth was a passenger in a car driven by Ralph Lewis, 50, of 219 Second Ave. He was not hurt.

The other vehicle was a truck operated by Charles F. Knox, 45, Chillicothe, also not injured.

Sgt. Turney Ross said the truck was headed west on Ohio St. and the car north on Pickaway St. The vehicles collided in the intersection. Both were slightly damaged, he said.

Khrush Scorns Western Aid

Indians Told Plan Leads to 'Slavery'

BHILAI, India (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev told Indian steel workers today that the emergence of a strong Communist bloc is the only reason the West is granting economic aid to undeveloped nations.

For the second day the Soviet Premier hammered on the theme that Western aid is a new version of old "colonialist policies."

He spoke at a steel plant being built here in central India with Soviet assistance.

Khrushchev charged in an extemporaneous speech at a banquet Sunday night that Western aid to India and other undeveloped countries is designed to hold them "in capitalist slavery."

Speaking from a text today, he declared: "The Soviet Union and the West have two different approaches to aid. The Soviet Union strives to achieve economic independence. But some people in the West utilize assistance as a weapon of a new colonial policy."

Only such factors as the development of socialism (communism) and the failure of colonialism brought aid to the undeveloped nations," he told the Indian workers.

Khrushchev accused the West of being interested primarily in supplying consumer goods and keeping new nations without industry. He contrasted this with Soviet policy of giving aid to specific industrial projects. Western aid actually has bolstered the entire Indian economy, and particularly agricultural production in the underdeveloped nation of 415 million population.

Britain Eyes A-Ship

LONDON (AP) — Britain has invited bids for construction of the propulsion unit of the first British atomic-powered ship, a freighter, to be completed by 1964.

Pre-Natal Dental Care Important

This is the first in a series of six articles prepared by the Pickaway County Dental Society. They are presented to further interest in better dental health in the community. Preparation of the articles evolved from study sessions, oral surgery and other child health problems.

During pregnancy, the mother-to-be should continue to observe such dental health measures as brushing teeth, restriction in the consumption of sweets in the diet and regular dental examination and treatment.

The developing child needs calcium and phosphorus from the teeth that begin to form about the sixth to eighth week of pregnancy. These and other nutritive elements required must be supplied from the food the mother eats.

She should therefore follow her physician's advice as to diet. Contrary to an old belief, the fetus does not absorb calcium from the teeth of the mother. Another widely held belief, that the mother loses a tooth for every child, is likewise without foundation.

If tooth decay, dental caries, increases during pregnancy, the cause may be an increased consumption of sweets, neglected oral hygiene or other environmental factors.

POOR MOUTH hygiene during pregnancy may lead to an infection of the gums, gingivitis, known as gingivitis. Such gum infection may also be the result of changes in the hormones or blood vessels during this time.

Treatment for gingivitis will depend on the cause of the condition. Of good mouth hygiene, scaling and polishing of the teeth and removal of the cause of the infection are needed, as well as such other specific remedies as the dentist finds necessary.

Dental treatment is just as important during pregnancy as at any other time. There is no truth in the "old wives tale" that it is dangerous for the expectant mother.

Necessary dental treatment, including extractions, should be performed unless the patient's obstetrician advises otherwise. However, in the later months of pregnancy, extensive dental treatment usually is not advised.

A well-balanced diet is important for good nutrition. Although our knowledge of the relation of nutrition to dental disease is incomplete, we do know that a well-balanced diet is needed for the general health of the expectant mother and the proper development of the baby.

Since the structure of the teeth is laid down early in the development of the fetus, any deficiency in the expectant mother's diet should be corrected immediately. She should eat adequate quantities of nourishing food, but it is not true that she must "eat for two".

Since tooth decay is caused by acids produced in the fermentation of certain carbohydrates, especially sugar, the restriction of sugar in the diet is effective in the control of this disease.

Driver Cited By Patrol on Three Charges

A Columbus motorist charged with three violations headed the list of traffic cases handled in Circleville Municipal Court Saturday and today.

The accusations were against David L. Meddings, 47. He was fined a total of $225 and costs. Meddings was fined $125 and costs for driving under the influence of intoxicants, $50 and costs for driving south in a northbound lane on Route 23 and $50 and costs for no operator's license.

He also was sentenced to three days in jail and had his driving rights suspended for six months on the intoxicated driving count. Arrest was by the State Highway Patrol.

JOE TOM ALLEN, 29, Washington C. H., was given a stiff penalty Saturday for driving under the influence. He was fined $225 and costs, sentenced to 15 days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for one year. The sheriff's department made the arrest.

James H. Thompson, 40, Columbus, also was arrested for driving under the influence. Cited by the State Highway Patrol, he was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months.

Robert Snyder, 31, Route 2, Orient, was arrested by the State Highway Patrol for fictitious registration of a vehicle. He was fined $50 and costs.

Shirley J. Keeney, 5, Route 1, South Point, was fined $15 and costs for speeding at 65 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone. She was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Ruth Varney, 28, Lancaster, was booked by city police for speeding at 50 miles per hour in a 35 mile zone. She was fined $15 and costs.

Two emergencies were treated and released at Berger Hospital Saturday.

David Congrove, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Congrove, 1076 Mulberry Road, suffered minor contusions of the scalp when he fell from a wagon onto cement while playing at home Saturday.

Sarah Short, 25, Route 3, sprained her left ankle while walking to the car Saturday.

northeast this morning and prospects are now unfavorable for a steady rise in temperatures Tuesday and Wednesday with the temperatures getting high enough to melt some of the snow each afternoon.

Temperatures will continue cold today, ranging from 25 to 33.

Early this morning Zanesville reported the coldest in the state with a reading of 4 above zero. Akron had 8, Cleveland 14, Columbus 17, Cincinnati 18 and Toledo 2.

Here is the Ohio forecast for the next five days:

Temperatures are expected to average near five degrees below normal. Normal high 36 to 42 south, normal low 20 to 26. Some warmer Tuesday and Wednesday with little change Thursday through Saturday. Showers or snow flurries indicated Friday or Saturday.

The roving storm, after plastering Dixie with as much as 16 inches of snow, rocked areas from eastern Ohio to the Atlantic Coast and into New England.

Travel—air, highway and train—was sharply curtailed. Thousands of autos and trucks were abandoned on snow-clogged highways, in rural areas and in cities. Scores of air flights were canceled. Train and bus service slowed. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was among the hundreds stranded in the worst storm in 10 years in southwestern Pennsylvania.

Hundreds of schools from Ohio into Kentucky, Virginia and North Carolina were ordered closed today. Other schools in the snow-bound Northeast were not expected to open. Driving conditions were hazardous from Ohio into deep in the South and across the Northeast snow belt.

Cold weather was an added misery in the Northeast storm zone. Temperatures were in the teens in most of the snow-covered sections from eastern Kentucky and Tennessee into New York.

Biting, gusty winds off Lake Erie drifted snow up to 10 feet high in upstate New York. The ground was covered with falls up to 18 inches. More than a foot of snow was general in many areas.

Deaths

SCOTT SMITH
Mr. Scott Smith, 82, Williamsport, died at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at his residence.

He was born June 2, 1877, in Deer Creek Twp., the son of Lewis and Emma Shipley Smith.

Mr. Smith was a retired farmer. His wife, Etta Stonerock Smith, is deceased.

He is survived by six children, Mrs. Myrtle Lingo, Mrs. Ruth Finch, Woodrow and Norma Jean Smith, Williamsport; Susi Smith, Columbus; and Charles, Groveport; four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at the Hill Funeral Home, Williamsport, at 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Burial will be in Springlawn Cemetery, Williamsport. Friends may call at the funeral home beginning tomorrow morning.

Elks 'Old-Timers' Night Scheduled

The Circleville B. P. O. Elks Lodge No. 77 will celebrate "Old-Timers" night tomorrow during its bi-monthly meeting in the lodge home.

In addition to honoring 35-year members an initiation will be held. Two amendments to the by-laws will be up for a vote.

They are changing meeting hours and an increase in dues.

Local Man Cited On Three Charges

Harold W. Gilmore Jr., 46, of 133 York St., was cited into Circleville Municipal Court today on three charges. One of the accusations was dismissed.

Gilmore was fined $50 and costs for intoxication and $50 costs for resisting an officer. Both fines were suspended and probation for one year was imposed on each charge.

An assault and battery charge filed by his wife, Lavenia, was dismissed on her request. The other two accusations were filed by city police.

Collection of Personal Tax Progressing, Says Auditor

Pickaway County Auditor's office today said personal property tax returns are progressing as expected and tax personnel are keeping up with returns.

On or before April 30, all individuals, partnerships, associations, and corporations engaged in business, such as manufacturer, merchants, farmers, lawyers, doctors, dentists, accountants and others, are required to file personal property tax returns with the county auditor.

All residents of Ohio owning intangible property, regardless of its use, such as stocks, bonds, notes, debentures, credit balances with brokers, and other intangible property, also are required to file returns with the county auditor.

Individuals, partnerships, corporations and associations must file returns with the county auditor in each county where they own taxable property. Mandatory penalties and additional charges are provided by statute for the filing of returns after April 30.

THE RATE OF tax on tangible property varies from locality to locality according to need and is identical with the rate of real estate and public utility property for a given taxing district.

Regarding intangible property,

Ammer To Hear School Case

Delaware County District Cited

Pickaway County Judge William Ammer will be in charge of the Delaware County Grand Jury when it meets Wednesday to consider charges against the Big Walnut School District.

Judge Ammer was asked to sit in for Delaware County Common Pleas Judge O. W. Whitney Jr., who stepped out of the case at his own request.

The special session of the Delaware County Grand Jury will consider charges of embezzlement against Big Walnut school officials.

Delaware County Prosecutor George C. Smythe says he has 20 witnesses to testify before the Grand Jury. School officials face possible charges of embezzlement of public money and fraud in connection with public works.

ACCORDING to Delaware County court authorities, it appears that Big Walnut school officials have taken school board purchased war surplus materials and sold them, pocketing the money.

Surplus property sold totals approximately $2,600. The State Board of Education has indicated it is considering starting civil action against the Big Walnut school board.

It also indicated it will withhold further state funds from the district until the surplus property has been returned or payment is made for the material missing.

Regardless of the State Board's actions, Prosecutor Smythe has stated he is going ahead with the criminal proceedings.

Judge Whitney asked for a replacement because he has two children in Big Walnut Schools. Judge Ammer will stand by in case the Grand Jury needs instructions.

In case of indictments, Judge Ammer will conduct arraignment proceedings and preside at any trials concerned with the case.

Stock Mart Prices Move Irregularly

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved irregularly in quiet trading early this afternoon.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the rule for most pivotal issues.

The market was higher at the opening in a brief follow through to Friday's advance, then prices melted unevenly.

Weekend reports of a slowdown in demand for stainless and tool steels combined with a cutback in auto production to dampen sentiment somewhat.

Little group action was apparent, most sections showing a mixture of plus and minus signs. A drift to the downside was apparent among rails, airlines and aircrafts.

A few selected issues made sizable gains.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .10 to 216.30 with the industrials unchanged, the rails down 20 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Corporate bonds advanced. U.S. government bonds were steady to a shade higher.

County Dental Society Plans Special Programs for 'Week'

The Pickaway County Dental Society yesterday announced the start of Children's Dental Health Week.

According to members of the society, there are few preschool children without some kind of dental problem.

Problems range from lack of proper home care of the mouth and teeth to neglect of irregular or "crooked" teeth. There are many children who have never visited a dentist for treatment or do not make regular visits to a dentist for an examination.

They make appointment for emergency treatment only. Many children lose one or more permanent teeth before they are 12-years-old, officials say.

BECAUSE this situation exists throughout the nation, once every year a special effort is made to focus the country's attention on the seriousness of the problem. Dates of this year's children's dental health week are Sunday through Saturday.

"The individual must think about dental health every week. Three simple measures, faithfully observed, can do a great deal to reduce tooth decay: cutting down on sweets, brushing one's teeth after every meal and going to a dentist periodically for an examination," society members state.

They continued, "Youngsters with diseased or decayed teeth cannot chew their food properly during the years when nutrition is important. Their speech may be affected as well as the size and shape of their faces. "Diseased or irregular teeth may cause emotional problems for boys and girls who are sensitive about their appearance."

"Whether a child is to become one of the many dental cripples in America, depends much on how well he practices the rules of good dental health during his early years. Parents must help and encourage the child all along the way."

Temperatures are expected to average near five degrees below normal. Normal high 36 to 42 south, normal low 20 to 26. Somewhat warmer Tuesday and Wednesday with little change Thursday through Saturday. Showers or snow flurries indicated Friday or Saturday.

The roving storm, after plastering Dixie with as much as 16 inches of snow, rocked areas from eastern Ohio to the Atlantic Coast and into New England.

Travel-air, highway and train—was sharply curtailed. Thousands of autos and trucks were abandoned on snow-clogged highways, in rural areas and in cities. Scores of air flights were canceled. Train and bus service slowed. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was among the hundreds stranded in the worst storm in 10 years in southwestern Pennsylvania.

Hundreds of schools from Ohio into Kentucky, Virginia and North Carolina were ordered closed today. Other schools in the snow-bound Northeast were not expected to open. Driving conditions were hazardous from Ohio into deep in the South and across the Northeast snow belt.

Cold weather was an added misery in the Northeast storm zone. Temperatures were in the teens in most of the snow-covered sections from eastern Kentucky and Tennessee into New York.

Biting, gusty winds off Lake Erie drifted snow up to 10 feet high in upstate New York. The ground was covered with falls up to 18 inches. More than a foot of snow was general in many areas.

Deaths

SCOTT SMITH

Mr. Scott Smith, 82, Williamsport, died at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at his residence.

He was born June 2, 1877, in Deer Creek Twp., the son of Lewis and Emma Shipley Smith.

Mr. Smith was a retired farmer. His wife, Etta Stonerock Smith, is deceased.

He is survived by six children, Mrs. Myrtle Lingo, Mrs. Ruth Finch, Woodrow and Norma Jean Smith, Williamsport; Susi Smith, Columbus; and Charles, Groveport; four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at the Hill Funeral Home, Williamsport, at 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Burial will be in Springlawn Cemetery, Williamsport. Friends may call at the funeral home beginning tomorrow morning.

Elks 'Old-Timers' Night Scheduled

The Circleville B. P. O. Elks Lodge No. 77 will celebrate "Old-Timers" night tomorrow during its bi-monthly meeting in the lodge home.

In addition to honoring 35-year members an initiation will be held. Two amendments to the by-laws will be up for a vote.

They are changing meeting hours and an increase in dues.

Local Man Cited On Three Charges

Harold W. Gilmore Jr., 46, of 133 York St., was cited into Circleville Municipal Court today on three charges. One of the accusations was dismissed.

Gilmore was fined $50 and costs for intoxication and $50 costs for resisting an officer. Both fines were suspended and probation for one year was imposed on each charge.

An assault and battery charge filed by his wife, Lavenia, was dismissed on her request. The other two accusations were filed by city police.

Collection of Personal Tax Progressing, Says Auditor

Pickaway County Auditor's office today said personal property tax returns are progressing as expected and tax personnel are keeping up with returns.

On or before April 30, all individuals, partnerships, associations, and corporations engaged in business, such as manufacturer, merchants, farmers, lawyers, doctors, dentists, accountants and others, are required to file personal property tax returns with the county auditor.

All residents of Ohio owning intangible property, regardless of its use, such as stocks, bonds, notes, debentures, credit balances with brokers, and other intangible property, also are required to file returns with the county auditor.

Individuals, partnerships, corporations and associations must file returns with the county auditor in each county where they own taxable property. Mandatory penalties and additional charges are provided by statute for the filing of returns after April 30.

THE RATE OF tax on tangible property varies from locality to locality according to need and is identical with the rate of real estate and public utility property for a given taxing district.

Regarding intangible property, productive investments are taxed at five per cent of the income yield, unproductive investments are taxed at two mills on each dollar valuation, and deposits two mills on the dollar.

Moneys, credits and other taxable intangibles are taxed at three mills on each dollar valuation. All tax collected is paid to the local county treasurer and is used for local schools, libraries, health, police and fire services.

Personal property tax forms for filing returns are to be obtained from the county auditor's office and information as to the provisions of the law may be obtained from your county auditor or from the Ohio Department of Taxation, Ohio Department Building, Columbus, Ohio.

Truman Morris Withdraws from Short Term Race

Truman Morris, Chillicothe, today announced he has withdrawn from the Sixth Congressional Representative race for the short term.

The 42-year-old Democrat withdrew from the race for the short term, lasting from November 4 until Jan. 1, 1961, but is still a candidate for the full term.

He said he withdrew to avoid confusion by running for both terms since his other full term opponents failed to file for the short term.

Resident Visits South America

William A. Brown, 506 1/2 N. Court St., recently returned from a tour through Medellin, Columbia, and Quito and Guayaquil, Ecuador.

Brown visited the mission fields in the South American countries. He took slides and films of his trip and is interested in showing them to church or civic organizations.

Ammer To Hear School Case

Delaware County District Cited

Pickaway County Judge William Ammer will be in charge of the Delaware County Grand Jury when it meets Wednesday to consider charges against the Big Walnut School District.

Judge Ammer was asked to sit in for Delaware County Common Pleas Judge O. W. Whitney Jr., who stepped out of the case at his own request.

The special session of the Delaware County Grand Jury will consider charges of embezzlement against Big Walnut school officials.

Delaware County Prosecutor George C. Smythe says he has 20 witnesses to testify before the Grand Jury. School officials face possible charges of embezzlement of public property, embezzlement of public money and fraud in connection with public works.

According to Delaware County court authorities, it appears that Big Walnut school officials have taken school board purchased war surplus materials and sold them, pocketing the money.

Surplus property sold totals approximately $2,000. The State Board of Education has indicated it is considering starting civil action against the Big Walnut school board.

It also indicated it will withhold further state funds from the district until the surplus property has been returned or payment is made for the material missing.

Regardless of the State Board's actions, Prosecutor Smythe has stated he is going ahead with the criminal proceedings.

Judge Whitney asked for a replacement because he has two children in Big Walnut Schools. Judge Ammer will stand by in case the Grand Jury needs instructions.

In case of indictments, Judge Ammer will conduct arraignment proceedings and preside at any trials concerned with the case.

Stock Mart Prices Move Irregularly

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved irregularly in quiet trading early this afternoon.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the rule for most pivotal issues.

The market was higher at the opening in a brief follow through to Friday's advance, then prices milled unevenly.

Weekend reports of a slowdown in demand for stainless and tool steels combined with a cutback in auto production to dampen sentiment somewhat.

Little group action was apparent, most sections showing a mixture of plus and minus signs. A drift to the downside was apparent among rails, airlines and aircrafts.

A few selected issues made sizable gains. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 10 to 216.30 with the industrials unchanged, the rails down 20 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Corporate bonds advanced. U.S. government bonds were steady to a shade higher.

County Dental Society Plans Special Programs for 'Week'

The Pickaway County Dental Society yesterday announced the start of Children's Dental Health Week.

According to members of the society, there are few pre-school children without some kind of dental problem.

Problems range from lack of proper home care of the mouth and teeth to neglect of irregular or "crooked" teeth. There are many children who have never visited a dentist for treatment or do not make regular visits to a dentist for an examination.

They make appointment for emergency treatment only. Many children lose one or more permanent teeth before they are 12-years-old, officials say.

BECAUSE THIS situation exists throughout the nation, once every year a special effort is made to focus the country's attention on the seriousness of the problem. Dates of this year's children's dental health week are Sunday through Saturday.

"The individual must think about dental health every week. Three simple measures, faithfully observed, can do a great deal to reduce tooth decay: cutting down on sweets, brushing one's teeth after every meal and going to a dentist periodically for an examination," society members state.

They continued, "Youngsters with diseased or decayed teeth cannot chew their food properly during the years when nutrition is important. Their speech may be affected as well as the size and shape of their faces. "Diseased or irregular teeth may cause emotional problems for boys and girls who are sensitive about their appearance."

"Whether a child is to become one of the many dental cripples in America, depends much on how well he practices the rules of good dental health during his early years. Parents must help and encourage the child all along the way."

PICKAWAY

Recently Miss Umsted was honored at a surprise party. While Miss Umsted was eating dinner at the Carl J. Smith residents, the Juniors entered quietly without her knowing.

When Miss Umsted came into the room where the birthday cakes were lighted she was flabbergasted. How ever, seeing the Juniors made her speechless.

As a gift, the class gave to her a white orlon cardigan sweater. How old is she? Well, it isn't smart to tell a woman's age.

The Juniors wish to thank Mrs. C. J. Smith and Mrs. Donald Miller for the preparations which made this party such a success.

ALL THE JUNIORS are quite anxious to go on their trip. However, money is still an obstacle.

Light bulbs of 40, 60, 70 and 100 watt are being sold.

In the near future, a bake sale will be held in Circleville. The annual Variety Show will be put on the first of March.

Recently we had a scrap drive which was successful. For anyone who wants scrap or paper picked up, don't hesitate in calling a member of the Junior Class.

The class appreciates any patronage, which is given to them.

Approximately 60 Latin students recently assembled in Pickaway School for the second quarterly meeting of the Junior Classical League.

DURING THE business meeting, dues were set. It was decided that a prize would be given to the member suggesting the best name for the council. Clarkburg was chosen at the next meeting in March.

At the close of the meeting, Unto and Pickaway gave skits as the entertainment. Unto's skit was "Hopalong Cataline." Pickaway presented "Little Red Riding Hood."

The characters were: Mary Streber, mother; Anne Smith, grandmother; Jim Drum, woodcutter; Norman Wilson, wolf; and Jane Bower, Little Red Riding Hood. Cookies and punch were served and enjoyed by all.

Editorial staff of the school newspaper, the "Pirate Blade" are: Junior editor, Janey Hockman; assistant junior editor, Sharon Sharrett; feature editor, Janet Bower;

Art editor, Sandra Grissom; reporters — elementary, Peggy Gifford; high school, Jackie Evans; typist, Anne Smith; sports, Dale Wolfe and Bill Parker, and advisor, William Drum.

Grade School News and Honor Roll

After a nice Christmas vacation we are back and working hard finishing our first semester work.

WE HAVE HAD many absences this last week due to chicken pox and flu. Two have moved from our room. Danny Azbell to Florida and Deborah Hiles to Lancaster.

The children have enjoyed counting our sales tax stamps, which we are getting ready to send.

Fourth Grade

In our class we have been making a study of Benjamin Franklin. We have each made booklets telling important facts in his life and we also have included some of his wise sayings. We have also been reading "Ben Franklin of Old Philadelphia" by Margaret Cousins.

Dennis Hulse brought his microscope to school the other day and we looked at a shrimp and shrimp eggs. This proved to be interesting.

Larry Stant has been absent this week. He had had the measles. Curtis Moss, Nancy May, and Eddie Kriesel have January birthdays.

Fifth Grade

THE FIFTH grade is busy with divisions, making announcements, counting sales tax stamps, working on a spelling contest, playing basketball, doing cut paper art work and hoping they won't catch the flu.

Mrs. Carl J. Smith visited with us on Friday. Our class won the one dollar prize for having the most parents present at the last PTO meeting.

Pupils on the honor roll from the fifth grade are: Sandra Gifford, Valerie May, Barbara McCain, Donna Parker, Biana Schaal, Bruce Wolford, Tommy Smith, McKnight, Scott Wilson, Paul Speghens, Alan Gabriel and Paula Weaver.

Seventh Grade

Jessie Barnhart has withdrawn and is now attending Saltcreek. We have been busy preparing book reports for the Reading Circle Books we have read.

On the honor roll are Janet DeLong, Carlene Fullen, Cheryl Hulse, Brenda List, Pam Miller, Anita Moats, Janet Steele, Sharon Graves, Vicki Holdren, Bobby Stant and Mary Ramey.

DAVID BEAVERS, Janet Bowler, Richard Dean, Rose Burris, Jackie Evans, Sandra Grissom, Brad Huffines and James Stauffer.

Sixth Grade

We have recently had a party for Benny Azbell, who moved to Florida. Daryl Reichelderfer is a newcomer in our class. He comes from Court Street Elementary School in Circleville.

We have been taking some tests. In our arithmetic progress test Cynthia Hildenbrand was highest with a score of 98. Susie Carpenter and Steve Burger made a perfect score on the reading test.

We have ended our sales tax stamps contest. Becky Alkire's side won. The losing team will entertain them.

The following pupils are on the honor roll: Becky Alkire, Steve Burger, Susie Carpenter, Sue Cooksey, Stephen Davis, Bernadine Gose, Cynthia Hildenbrand, Sharon Knece, Dean Poling, Linda Pontius, Connie Ramey, Donalds Schaal, Ellen Whaley and Katie Wilson.

Junior Honor Roll

Robert Gose, James Laveck, Larry McKenzie, Bill Parker, John Pontius and Anne Smith.

Freshman Honor Roll

DONALD BURGER, Sue Courtwright, Jimmy Dean, James Haral, Linda Styers, Veronda Lowery, Robert Parker, Cella Lowery, Sandra Huffman and Charlie McKenzie.

Cincy U To Offer Study Abroad

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati will participate in the junior year abroad education program beginning next fall, it was announced today by Dr. Charles K. Weichert, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Under the arrangement, students at the university may apply for acceptance in the junior-year European study program sponsored by more than a dozen American colleges and universities.

One of the requirements for eligibility is a minimum of two years of college-level training in the language of the country where students will study.

Honduras, the Central American republic, ceased to be a colony of Spain in 1821.

Queen Victoria's luxurious private railway cars, built in 1869, were given gas lighting. But, the Queen ordered oil lamps and candles to replace the gas jets.

Local Coed Sings Recital At Wooster

Miss Donna Mitchell, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Donald E. Mitchell, 146 E. Mound St., will present her senior voice recital Sunday at the College of Wooster, Wooster.

Miss Mitchell, senior voice student of Miss Eve Roine Richmond at the college, will sing at 8:15 p. m. in Memorial Chapel on the campus. The recital is free to the public.

Miss Mitchell, a coloratura soprano, has been soloist for three years with the Girl's Chorus of the college. Recently she gave concerts at John Carroll University in Cleveland, and in Circleville.

In November she won first place in the Northern Ohio Singer of the Year scholarship auditions sponsored by the National Association of Teachers of Singing, which allowed her to enter the five-state level of auditions.

Last spring she appeared with the Wooster Chamber Orchestra in a performance of "The Shadow Song", from Meyerbeer's "Dinorah". In addition to concert work, she frequently gives informal programs of folk songs accompanied with autoharp.

Some Protestants Get Integration Pledges

CLEVELAND (AP)—Members of a number of Protestant churches here are being asked to sign cards pledging their willingness to welcome as neighbors "any law-abiding and responsible person of whatever race, religion or national origin."

Cards were distributed Sunday to 300 persons attending services at the Church of the Master, Cleveland Heights, as part of its "Race Relations Sunday" observance. Other churches plan to circulate cards on subsequent Sundays. The campaign is being conducted by the Metropolitan Cleveland Committee for Democracy in Housing.

5 Akron Homes Robbed

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Five West Side homes were burglarized over the weekend. Akron detectives said that in one of them $1,100 in currency was taken. Police said all the work apparently was by the same man. A pry bar was used to open doors and windows.

'INHUMAN' is what residents are calling the marriage of this couple in Menglembu, Malaya. She is 56-year-old Chee Kew Moy, a priestess. He is 16-year-old Kok Tet Heng, who met her when he visited a temple. Local residents say she used "black magic" to wed the lad.

New Statewide Driver Test Plan Slated for Mid-March

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Statewide use of driver tests, written and physical, before issuing temporary driver permits is scheduled for mid-March, Maj. F. C. Moon, assistant Ohio Highway Patrol superintendent said today.

The program has been in effect in Franklin County for the last 18 months and is used in 12 other counties, Capt. M. A. Mock, head of driver testing, said.

The new plan applies only to persons seeking Ohio driver permits for the first time—including the 16-year-olds—or those who allow driver licenses to expire.

Heretofore, Mock said, an applicant for a driver license first obtained a temporary permit from a deputy registrar without any qualification test. Later, written and physical tests, and a road test, were administered by Highway Patrol examiners.

Under the new plan, an applicant first must take the physical and written test and, if approved by an examiner, then obtain a temporary license. When an applicant is ready for the road test, he reports to the examiner. Other tests do not have to be repeated.

With the exception of bus drivers who must obtain a physician's examination, the physical test by the examiner applies to eyes and a visual check for defects which may prohibit driving.

The written test is the standard check on knowledge of state laws, safety rules and regulations, and signs, Mock said.

The new plan, he added, "will give us the opportunity of looking over an individual before a temporary permit is issued."

Congressman Hits Anti-Labor Propaganda

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Rep. Elmer J. Holland (D-Pa.) told a United Rubber Workers Union meeting here Sunday night that newspapers, radio and television are part of a propaganda machine to overwhelm labor. He said the news media have emphasized existence of a few crooked labor leaders and have ignored instances of what he termed crooked management.

Bogus Stock Salesmen Get Ohio 'Sucker List'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"Boll-er room" stock salesmen in other states are getting Ohio sucker lists, the Division of Securities warns. The stock salesmen pay a few cents for a share of stock, then sell it for the highest possible price by telephone to buyers in other states. A northern Ohio couple recently lost $10,000 in such a sale, officials said. Such operators are not registered in Ohio, it was added, and such solicitation will be stopped wherever possible.

Some Protestants Get Integration Pledges

CLEVELAND (AP)—Members of a number of Protestant churches here are being asked to sign cards pledging their willingness to welcome as neighbors "any law-abiding and responsible person of whatever race, religion or national origin."

Cards were distributed Sunday to 300 persons attending services at the Church of the Master, Cleveland Heights, as part of its "Race Relations Sunday" observance. Other churches plan to circulate cards on subsequent Sundays. The campaign is being conducted by the Metropolitan Cleveland Committee for Democracy in Housing.

5 Akron Homes Robbed

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Five West Side homes were burglarized over the weekend. Akron detectives said that in one of them $1,100 in currency was taken. Police said all the work apparently was by the same man. A pry bar was used to open doors and windows.

"INHUMAN" is what residents are calling the marriage of this couple in Manglemu, Malaya. She is 56-year-old Chee Kew Moy, a priestess. He is 16-year-old Kok Tet Heng, who met her when he visited a temple. Local residents say she used "black magic" to wed the lad.

New Statewide Driver Test Plan Slated for Mid-March

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Statewide use of driver tests, written and physical, before issuing temporary driver permits is scheduled for mid-March, Maj. F. C. Moon, assistant Ohio Highway Patrol superintendent said today.

The program has been in effect in Franklin County for the last 18 months and is used in 12 other counties, Capt. M. A. Mock, head of driver testing, said.

The new plan applies only to persons seeking Ohio driver permits for the first time—including the 16-year-olds—or those who allow driver licenses to expire.

Heretofore, Mock said, an applicant for a driver license first obtained a temporary permit from a deputy registrar without any qualification test. Later, written and physical tests, and a road test, were administered by Highway Patrol examiners.

Under the new plan, an applicant first must take the physical and written test and, if approved by an examiner, then obtain a temporary license. When an applicant is ready for the road test, he reports to the examiner. Other tests do not have to be repeated.

With the exception of bus drivers who must obtain a physician's examination, the physical test by the examiner applies to eyes and a visual check for defects which may prohibit driving.

The written test is the standard check on knowledge of state laws, safety rules and regulations, and signs, Mock said.

The new plan, he added, "will give us the opportunity of looking over an individual before a temporary permit is issued."

Leap Year — a Technicality

A month of the current leap year has passed, and there is no visible evidence that the girls are taking advantage of the prerogative it traditionally bestows upon them and popping the question. Perhaps, as has been suggested, the modern female does not require the aid of the calendar in achieving the desired results.

The leap year custom began in Scotland in 1288, when a law was passed stating any single girl could propose publicly — publicly, it said — to any man not married or engaged. If the fiend was so rude as to refuse, he was eligible for a fine.

Laws like this one were passed later in France and in the 15th century the Italian cities of Genoa and Florence followed suit.

In their basic meaning, however, leap years have absolutely nothing to do with marriages, proposals, men or women.

In Caesar's time, the calendar was three months behind, accounted for by the extra six hours in each year which add up from the earth's travel around the sun. It takes 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 46 seconds for this route, and the time left over mounts and has to be used up somewhere.

So Caesar set things ahead again, since by his time months supposed to be fall were really winter, and that wouldn't fit his battle and vacation schedules. This adjustment — he decreed every fourth year should have 366 days — took care of matters for some time. But, by 1582, the calendar was out of kilter again.

It was 10 days off, as Julius Caesar had automatically supposed the year to be just six hours longer than 365 days. This is too long by one day in every 128 years.

Pope Gregory, back in 1582, ordered October 5 changed to October 15, and decided that century years — those with the 00s — should not be leap years unless they are exactly divisible by 400. Even it is not perfect. The Gregorian method exceeds the length of a true year by 26 seconds each year.

This will amount to an extra day in 3,232 years, but nobody has yet figured a solution to this problem.

Don't Tamper with Nature

Up until seven years ago there were about 100 million rabbits living bountifully in Britain's hedgerows and pleasant dingles. Farmers didn't like them because they ate too much. Foxes liked them, though, and generally had a rabbit in for dinner whenever things went right.

That didn't do the rabbits any good, however, and the farmers didn't like foxes any better than they liked rabbits. So, as was the fashion, the government stepped in to solve the rabbit problem.

About that time an infectious virus called myxomatosis hit the rabbits. The Ministry of Agriculture, thinking it a good idea, scattered infected rabbits around the country and soon 995 rabbits of every 1,000 were dead.

At first the results seemed good. Flowers flourished again and there was more grass for livestock. Then a coarser grass that cows don't like took over and in Kingley Vale the brambles grew three feet high. Juniper bushes overran the green meadows on Old Winchester Hill and on Horn Heath the oak seedlings began to grow.

Now the government's Nature Conservancy is alarmed. The countryside of Britain has in many places lost its manicured look. Surviving rabbits have built immunity against myxomatosis and are multiplying again. But it will be a long time before they get the countryside back in shape.

It will probably be longer before the Ministry of Agriculture goes meddling with the balance of nature, and that is about the only good that came of the whole affair.

Average Home Gets Dangerous

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The average home is almost as dangerous as the average highway. Home accidents are responsible for a death every 19 minutes a nonfatal injury every 8 seconds.

Probably never again will we elect as president a man born in a log cabin. As recently as 1935 two out of three births took place in homes. Now 95 out of 100 babies are born in hospitals.

The bald eagle has a number of bad traits—for one thing, it's a robber—but it is a very loyal parent. Even if the tree in which it is nesting is set on fire, it will not desert its young.

A British government survey found that two-thirds of all divorces occurred among couples that had one child or none. Divorces were twice as high among couples who married before the age of 20, and divorces were least among those who married at 24 and had at least two children.

Government officials estimate that by 1970 nearly half of all women aged 35 to 64 will be in the labor force, and 12.2 per cent 65 and over will be holding down jobs.

The world's largest tombstone and one of history's greatest government boondoggle projects is the 5,000-year-old Great Pyramid of Cheops near Cairo. It required the muscle of 100,000 men working three months a year for 30 years.

Where Are the Great Men?

It is not unusual these days for table chit-chat to wander to the illusive question of "Why do we have great men anymore?" And that leads to an argument over what is meant by "great" — an argument that often leads to a vast difference of opinion but it can be brought to a head by the one word, Lincoln.

Of course, when Lincoln was a candidate for President, he bore the brunt of attack, of personal defamation, even of references to his father, Thomas, who was not much to tell about, and his mother, Nancy Hanks, who was less than she should have been. He suffered calumny during the whole of his first year in the Presidency and was assassinated after his re-election.

But these are the crosses men bear and Abraham Lincoln bore his nobly and without malice or hatred. He was a period of bitterness, of distress, of vile antagonisms. Lincoln was neither a Southerner nor a Northerner. His family was of border stock, but basically Southern. He matured in Illinois. His cultural background was plebeian; he came of the drifters of those days, the ne'er-do-wells.

His education was of his own making. No university can claim him. No collegiate degree appended his name. His language came from the Bible and Shakespeare which he read by candlelight in a drab house in New Salem, Illinois. His religion was the mercy of God.

In an emergency, this tall, homely, simple man possessed the courage, selflessness and intellectual fortitude to save his country. But there were other men in his day who might have saved the country, and they were on both sides. Horace Greeley, William H. Seward, Jefferson Davis, Robert E. Lee — these were not pignies, but Lincoln towers above all of his generation.

Lincoln's conduct in office is probably no different than dozens of men who have held or might have held that high post. But his words bespeak nobility of soul. And we know that they are his words. The testimony as to who wrote "The Gettysburg Address" is beyond doubt. Lincoln wrote it. He had no ghost-writer. The language was his; the ideas were his. He required no word-slinger, no copy-writer, no punctuation-marker to aid him.

Abraham Lincoln lived in an age when one who could write, prided himself on his ability. In his Proclamation of March 30, 1863, Abraham Lincoln wrote:

"Whereas it is the duty of nations as well as of men to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God, to confess their sins and transgressions in humble sorrow, yet with assured hope that genuine repentance will lead to mercy and pardon, and to recognize the sublime truth, announced in the Holy Scriptures and proven by all history, that those nations only are blessed whose God is the Lord; And, inasmuch as we know that by His divine law nations, like individuals, are subjected to punishments and chastisements in this world, may we not justly fear that the awful calamity of civil war which now desolates the land may be but a punishment inflicted upon us for our presumptuous sins, to the needful end of our national reformation as a whole people?"

In the year, 1960, this could have been said by someone in a high position, for the situation is identical. Again on July 15, 1863, Lincoln wrote:

"...But these victories have been accorded not without sacrifices of life, limb, health, and liberty, incurred by brave, loyal, and patriotic citizens. Domestic affliction in every part of the country follows in the train of these fearful bereavements..."

It is in his Fourth Message on the State of the Union that Lincoln states his philosophy in a passing phrase:

"The most reliable indication of public purpose in this country is derived through our popular elections. Judging by the recent canvass and its result, the purpose of the people within the loyal States to maintain the integrity of the Union was never more firm nor more nearly unanimous than now. There have been much impugning of motives and much heated controversy as to the proper means and best mode of advancing the Union cause, but on the distinct issue of Union or no Union the politicians have shown their instinctive knowledge that there is no diversity among the people..."

A PHILOSOPHER was invited to be guest of honor at a big banquet, but absently arrived in a business suit, and soon noticed that the welcoming committee was distinctly upset. So he unostentatiously withdrew, put on his dinner dress suit, and reappeared.

Led with a great show of deference to the dais, he waited until the soup was served, then took a tablespoonful and spilled it drop by drop on his elegant suit. "Eat well, my fine suit," he said distinctly, an edge of fine sarcasm in his voice, "for it obviously was you and not me who was invited here this evening!"

A very pretty girl approached Richard Rodgers for a part in the English company of "Flower Drum Song." "Come over to Shubert Alley with me and hear me sing," she begged. "What's the matter with the stage of the St. James Theater?" asked Dick. "Oh, I could never sing there," shuddered the girl. "When I'm in a theater I get stage fright!"

Heart Attack — Misnomer

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
The minute most persons get a pain in their chest, they automatically think of a heart attack.

Sudden weakness or faintness, difficulty in breathing, a blackout—all these and many more illnesses and conditions bring visions of heart failure.

Actually the words "heart attack" and "heart failure" are misnomers.

"Heart attack" is a term used by the laymen. As far as medicine is concerned, it has no precise meaning.

And heart failure does not necessarily mean that the heart is failing. The heart may be inefficient because of some circulation breakdown, but at the same time it may be as strong as ever. Thus, even during a heart failure, this most vital of all organs may be a long way from giving up.

Now the symptoms I have listed above might indeed be indicative of heart failure. Or they might prove to be caused by pneumonia, asthma, pleurisy, neuralgia, arthritis or bursitis of the shoulder, a slipped cervical disk, a lung tumor or an ulcer of the esophagus or stomach.

Other causes might be gallstones, epilepsy, a fish bone caught in the trachea or even a state of anxiety. And there are others, too.

Any chest distress, of course, is a signal to call the doctor. However, if the person complaining of such trouble has never had heart symptoms before, chances are that the cause lies somewhere besides the heart.

If, on the other hand, he patient has had one or more attacks previously, then it is a good bet that the heart is acting up again.

Some persons may suffer heart disease without experiencing any symptoms. Compensatory mechanisms begin to operate, you see, whenever disease cuts the heart's efficiency.

In some cases the compensating factors work so well that the circu-

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets shocked this country with their Sputniks and the moon shot. But they sent a first-class chill down the American spine with Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan's trip to Cuba.

The United States doesn't like it. But what is it going to do about it? Not much right away, it seems. What the Soviets proved was that two can play at the one-sided game this country has been playing a long time.

We have been rooting around in their back yard for years. Now they are rooting around in ours. Once they got nasty after the war we had no hesitancy about lining up their neighbors on our side.

We got Turkey, Iran and Pakistan into military alliances, gave them arms and aid. Those who just wanted aid, like India and Afghanistan, got aid.

We spread our influence and help into Southeast Asia and North Africa. As for Latin America—we spread help there, too, although not as freely as elsewhere. That part of the world was under our wing. The Soviets were far away and it seemed safe.

We had the Monroe Doctrine for Latin America: no foreign intervention there. We were thinking of military intervention, of course. There were local Communists in Latin America but they did not control a government.

With everything so tidy close to home, we even extended a kind of Monroe Doctrine to Western Europe, called the Truman Doctrine. It told the Soviets American interests were worldwide and not to push our friends around.

All this was intended to put a ring around the Soviet Union to keep it in check. It worked for a while but not long. All the Soviets had to do was to fly over the ring or sail around it.

Egypt, for instance. The Egyptians got aid from us but when they wanted weapons, too, and help in building their Aswan Dam, we refused the arms and backed away from the dam.

The Soviets moved right in. Egypt got the arms and now the Soviets are building the dam. We gave Afghanistan aid, the Soviets gave more. We gave help to India. So did the Soviet Union.

Still, Latin America seemed a long way away from the Soviet Union. Then Mikoyan went to Mexico to get acquainted and followed up with last week's trip to Cuba where Fidel Castro's government has been snarling at the United States.

By last weekend he had promised to buy five million tons of Cuban sugar over the next five years, arranged for a Soviet loan to Cuba, and even offered Castro war planes if he wants them.

This country has been concerned that Cuban Communists, with or without Castro's leadership, would take over the government.

Now Mikoyan has gone a long way in a week's time to set a solid foundation for Soviet and Communist influence there.

At the least, Castro will probably try to play off the Soviet Union against this country. But Mikoyan's trip to Cuba is just a preliminary to other Soviet efforts to create friends and dependents in Latin America.

All this puts the United States in a kind of self-conscious fix, since the United States is anxious to avoid any action which would revive the memory of Uncle Sam hovering over Latin America with a big stick.

THE B-52, SAVIOR OR PRODIGAL SON? — Here are two views of that eight-jet B-52 bomber which is causing such a to-do or not-to-do in Washington. Gen. Thomas S. Power, Strategic Air Forces in the Matter of Command chief, insists we ICBMs, the B-52 is our big aren't safe unless we keep bulwark. On the other hand, President Eisenhower, Defense Secretary Thomas Gates and the Joint Chiefs of Staff don't think an all-the-time 24-hour alert, with all that expense, is needed.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A PHILOSOPHER was invited to be guest of honor at a big banquet, but absently arrived in a business suit, and soon noticed that the welcoming committee was distinctly upset. So he unostentatiously withdrew, put on his dinner dress suit, and reappeared.

Led with a great show of deference to the dais, he waited until the soup was served, then took a tablespoonful and spilled it drop by drop on his elegant suit. "Eat well, my fine suit," he said distinctly, an edge of fine sarcasm in his voice, "for it obviously was you and not me who was invited here this evening!"

A very pretty girl approached Richard Rodgers for a part in the English company of "Flower Drum Song." "Come over to Shubert Alley with me and hear me sing," she begged. "What's the matter with the stage of the St. James Theater?" asked Dick. "Oh, I could never sing there," shuddered the girl. "When I'm in a theater I get stage fright!"

Heart Attack—Misnomer

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

The minute most persons get a pain in their chest, they automatically think of a heart attack.

Sudden weakness or faintness, difficulty in breathing, a blackout—all these and many more illnesses and conditions bring visions of heart failure.

Actually the words "heart attack" and "heart failure" are misnomers.

"Heart attack" is a term used by the laymen. As far as medicine is concerned, it has no precise meaning.

And heart failure does not necessarily mean that the heart is failing. The heart may be inefficient because of some circulation breakdown, but at the same time it may be as strong as ever. Thus, even during a heart failure, this most vital of all organs may be a long way from giving up.

Now the symptoms I have listed above might indeed be indicative of heart failure. Or they might prove to be caused by pneumonia, asthma, pleurisy, neuralgia, arthritis or bursitis of the shoulder, a slipped cervical disk, a lung tumor or an ulcer of the esophagus or stomach.

Other causes might be gallstones, epilepsy, a fish bone caught in the trachea or even a state of anxiety. And there are others, too.

Any chest distress, of course, is a signal to call the doctor. However, if the person complaining of such trouble has never had heart symptoms before, chances are that the cause lies somewhere besides the heart.

If, on the other hand, he patient has had one or more attacks previously, then it is a good bet that the heart is acting up again.

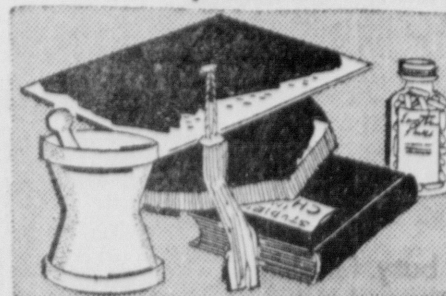

Some persons may suffer heart disease without experiencing any symptoms. Compensatory mechanisms begin to operate, you see, whenever disease cuts the heart's efficiency.

In some cases the compensating factors work so well that the circu-

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviets shocked this country with their Sputniks and the moon shot. But they sent a first-class chill down the American spine with Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan's trip to Cuba.

The United States doesn't like it. But what is it going to do about it? Not much right away, it seems. What the Soviets proved was that two can play at the one-sided game this country has been playing a long time.

We have been rooting around in their back yard for years. Now they are rooting around in ours. Once they got nasty after the war we had no hesitancy about lining up their neighbors on our side.

We got Turkey, Iran and Pakistan into military alliances, gave them arms and aid. Those who just wanted aid, like India and Afghanistan, got aid.

We spread our influence and help into Southeast Asia and North Africa. As for Latin America—we spread help there, too, although not as freely as elsewhere. That part of the world was under our wing. The Soviets were far away and it seemed safe.

We had the Monroe Doctrine for Latin America: no foreign intervention there. We were thinking of military intervention, of course. There were local Communists in Latin America but they did not control a government.

With everything so tidy close to home, we even extended a kind of Monroe Doctrine to Western Europe, called the Truman Doctrine. It told the Soviets American interests were worldwide and not to push our friends around.

All this was intended to put a ring around the Soviet Union to keep it in check. It worked for a while but not long. All the Soviets had to do was to fly over the ring or sail around it.

Egypt, for instance. The Egyptians got aid from us but when they wanted weapons, too, and help in building their Aswan Dam, we refused the arms and backed away from the dam.

The Soviets moved right in. Egypt got the arms and now the Soviets are building the dam. We gave Afghanistan aid, the Soviet Union gave more. We gave help to India. So did the Soviet Union.

Still, Latin America seemed a long way away from the Soviet Union. Then Mikoyan went to Mexico to get acquainted and followed up with last week's trip to Cuba where Fidel Castro's government has been snarling at the United States.

By last weekend he had promised to buy five million tons of Cuban sugar over the next five years, arranged for a Soviet loan to Cuba, and even offered Castro war planes if he wants them.

This country has been concerned that Cuban Communists, with or without Castro's leadership, would take over the government.

Now Mikoyan has gone a long way in a week's time to set a solid foundation for Soviet and Communist influence there.

At the least, Castro will probably try to play off the Soviet Union against this country. But Mikoyan's trip to Cuba is just a preliminary to other Soviet efforts to create friends and dependents in Latin America.

All this puts the United States in a kind of self-conscious fix, since the United States is anxious to avoid any action which would revive the memory of Uncle Sam hovering over Latin America with a big stick.

Utility Stocks Hold Their Own Special Appeal

Raging Bears Seldom Note Steady Increase in Earning Powers

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Glamour rarely touches the utility stocks. But in days like these they carry an appeal peculiarly their own.

Space age stocks may soar and then plunge to earth again. Prices of other industrials swing widely with rumors of splits, proxy fights, mergers, or profit tumbles or gains.

But the utilities go along steadily, usually gaining each year in earnings if not in prices. Overlooked when the bulls are snorting and pawing, the utilities look like a good investing defense when the bears aren't hibernating.

In recent months the industrials have zipped to new highs and then tumbled spectacularly. Rails have followed, although at a more subdued pace.

But in all the hullabaloo, the utilities have followed the market sedately, whether on the upgrade or the downturn.

Today the 15-utility component in the Associated Press 60-stock price index is 5 per cent below its 1959-60 high and 4 per cent above its low. It is 1 per cent above the 1958 high. In other words, very little change over a two-year span.

When popularity polls are held, utilities are rarely anywhere near the top of big investment holdings. Yet three or four or so are included in most college endowment funds, in mutual funds, in investment club favorites, and of those participating in the New York Stock Exchange monthly investment plan.

The even course of utility earnings is shown in the 1959 results now being reported. Of 93 utilities to report so far, only 11 show declines from net income after taxes in 1958. Their combined earnings came to $1,363,664,000, against $1,245,804,000 for the same companies the year before, a gain of 9.4 per cent in 1959.

The yearly increase usually runs between 7 and 10 per cent. The reason is that the utilities are closely regulated. They can't make big gains in profits, and if business falls off or operating ex-

Coming Decisions May Affect Kennedy, Humphrey in Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The fate of Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) on the Wisconsin battleground may be affected soon by two decisions.

The decisions will be made by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, conceded sure victory in his question of the Republican nomination, and Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) conceded little chance in his race for the Democratic nomination.

It was learned in Washington Sunday that Nixon probably would decide to let Republican leaders enter his name in Wisconsin's April 5 primary.

If he enters the primary, party officials would try to roll up an impressive vote for the unopposed vice president. They would pressure Republicans to mark the GOP ballot instead of crossing over to vote in the more interesting Democratic contest.

This would be good news for Humphrey, who has said he fears that Wisconsin Republicans, spurred on by Minnesota Republicans, will vote against him in the Democratic contest. Their motive: to give him a black eye while his nearby Minnesota constituents are watching.

The second decision also involves the Wisconsin primary. Sen. Morse, on a television show Sunday said he would decide within a few days whether to enter the primary.

"At the present time I am having a little poll taken in Wisconsin," Morse said, "and if I become convinced that I can get a great many progressive Republicans to vote for me, I may go in."

If he decided against entering the primary, the Oregon senator continued, he would support Humphrey.

Morse also said he would enter Maryland's May 17 primary against Kennedy.

"I don't think Senator Kennedy should have it on a platter," Morse explained.

So far, only Kennedy has filed in the contest for Maryland's 24 convention votes.

California's 81 votes, apparently sewed up by Gov. Edmund G. Brown as a favorite-son candidate, attracted Kennedy, Humphrey, Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) to Fresno during the weekend for the California Democratic Council Convention.

The name of an unannounced and absent candidate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), also attracted attention. But he and Nixon were booed when Gov. Brown mentioned them in his keynote address. The governor, at a news conference later, apologized for the booing.

Kroger Profits Up

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Kroger Co., Midwest market chain, says its sales—during 53 weeks of fiscal 1959—were $1,911,902,467 and profits of $25,516,920, equal to $2.06 a share on 12,410,000 shares. This compared with 52 weeks in 1958 when sales were $1,771,175,146 and earnings of $21,629,940 equaled $1.75 per share on the 12,319,317 shares then outstanding.

PAYOLA QUIZ STAR — Joe Finan, 32, who was fired by KYW in Cleveland when the payola scandal broke, tells a House hearing in Washington that he did accept $150 each for giving special attention to and playing three records. Finan said his 1959 income ran to something more than $50,000, "between" $38,000 and $40,000 of it coming through the station.

East Liverpool Gas Rate Hike Is Battled

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Valley Gas Co.'s request for a rate increase is being answered here by a campaign to raise $4,000 for a fight before the Public Utilities Commission.

Delegates from this and seven other eastern Ohio communities have agreed to ask their councils for a share of the money needed to hire a rate expert. The other participants are Wellsville, Toronto, Steubenville, Mingo Junction, Bellaire, Martins Ferry and Yorkville.

monies of Paar's television show. The comedian walked out during the show Thursday night, furious because NBC had cut one of his jokes off the program the night before.

Paar said then he wouldn't return to the show, despite his contract with NBC. Sunday he said: "I still hope I don't have to go back to the 'Tonight' show. But I don't want to be sued."

NBC apologized to Paar for not notifying him in advance that the joke had been edited out of his taped program. But the network defended its right to make the deletion. NBC said the joke was in bad taste.

At his Bronxville, N.Y., home Paar said: "I'm going to fly to South America either Monday or Tuesday."

NBC reportedly receives a gross income of 10 million dollars annually from the Paar show. The star is believed to be paid about $4,100 a week.

New York City Crime Rate Still Increasing

NEW YORK (AP) — Crime in New York City rose 1.8 per cent last year for the sixth straight annual increase. Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy said in his annual report Thursday that arrests were up 1.2 per cent and felonies rose 4.8 per cent. However, there was a 4.9 per cent decrease in arrests of persons under 16, the first time since 1955 that a drop occurred in that category.

Savory Meat Dishes Geared To the Chilly Season

By ALICE DENHOFF

Now's the time for good hearty meat dishes geared to the season, among them a fine round steak dinner to serve 4 to 6.

Have 1 lb. round steak about 1 in. thick cut into 4-6 serving-size pieces. With meat pounder or edge of heavy saucer, pound meat on both sides.

Combine 1/2 c. flour, tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. pepper; coat steak pieces.

Brown 1 clove garlic in 2 tbsp. hot fat; remove garlic and brown steaks in fat.

Place steaks in large casserole of Dutch oven and sprinkle lightly with thyme, basil or marjoram. Add 1/4 c. water, cover and bake at 350 F. for 1 hr.

Top meat with layer of sliced onions and layer of 1 in. thick potato slices (2 onions, 3 potatoes). Sprinkle with salt and pepper and seasonings.

Stir 1 tbsp. flour into hot fat in which steak was browned and add bouillon made by stirring 1 bouillon cube into 1 c. hot water.

Cook, stirring until thickened, then pour over meat and vegetables. Cover and continue baking at 350 F. until meat and vegetables are tender, about 1 hr.

Pork Hocks

Pork hocks, sauerkraut and potatoes combine and do well with an assist from caraway seeds and apple.

To prepare 4 servings of this dish cover 4 pork hocks with water, add salt and simmer, covered, until tender, about 2 hrs. (If hocks are smoked, omit salt.)

Remove meat; skim fat from surface of stock. Pour off all but 1/2 c. stock.

To remaining stock, add 1 large can kraut (3 1/2 c.), 2 cubed, medium potatoes, 1 diced tart apple, 2 tsp. caraway seed and 1/4 c. brown sugar; mix well. Top with hocks.

Cover and cook 30 min. or until potatoes are tender.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Relax; Let Her Grow Up

DEAR ABBY: How much humiliation are parents expected to stand? Our daughter became engaged to a fine young man. We spent a lot of money on her engagement party and there have been several parties in her honor. She had a quarrel with her fiancé and although the wedding invitations were already printed (not mailed, thank heavens) she called off the wedding and returned his ring.

New Year's Eve they made up again and she started the wedding plans anew. We had another batch of wedding invitations printed for a May wedding. This morning she told us that she broke up with him again. We have invested over $400 in this off-again-on-again romance. What do we do now?

HUMILIATED
DEAR HUMILIATED: Thank your lucky stars that you are out only $400. Any girls haven't the courage to call off a wedding. Instead they come home to Mama two years later with a baby under each arm. Your daughter needs to grow up. Don't plan any more weddings for her until she proves by her behavior that her judgment is mature.

DEAR ABBY: I am a bachelor, age 49. I have suddenly taken to the idea that maybe I'm not too old to marry. My friends say they know many women who would like to make my acquaintance. I don't drink hard liquor or curse, but I do dance a little and go to movies. This bachelor life is me and I am perfectly able to answer my own telephone. I have nothing to hide but I think a person's telephone calls are personal. Several times the person calling me would hang up when they heard a strange voice, thinking they had the wrong number.

I have asked this neighbor time and again to please not answer my phone, but for some reason she still does. Have you any suggestions? I don't want to get her mad at me. She makes a better friend than an enemy if you know what I mean.

NEIGHBOR
DEAR NEIGHBOR: Possibly your neighbor answers your telephone without thinking. (Reflex action.) When she visits you, place the telephone within YOUR reach—not hers. If she reaches for it when it rings, beat her to the receiver. She'll get the message.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Three Contests Open Fairfield Cage Tourney

The Fairfield County Basketball Tournament starts Thursday in the Denison University Fieldhouse, Granville.

Three contests open the tourney. Millersport (9-9) meets Bremen (12-6) at 6:30 p. m. in the opener. The second game at 8 p. m. pits Amanda (10-8) against Pleasantville (7-11).

The final tilt finds Thurston (4-12) battling Berne Union (2-16) at 9:30 p. m. The second night of the cage tourney is slated for Saturday.

Stoutsville (13-4) starts the evening of action at 7:30 p. m. against Rushville (2-16). The second game at 9 p. m. has Carroll (9-9) meeting the winner of the Amanda-Pleasantville contest.

THIRD NIGHT action is scheduled for next Monday. Liberty Union (12-6) meets the Millersport-Bremen winner at 7:30 p. m.

The second encounter at 9 p. m. pits Pickerington (16-2) against the Thurston-Berne Union victor. A Stoutsville win would put it into the league winner, on February 25. The finals are scheduled for February 27.

Fairfield County will send three teams into the district tournament. Pickerington automatically enters the district by virtue of its league championship.

2 Big Games Tonight Face Ohio Cagers

Buckeyes Scheduled Against Illini; OU To Host Toledo '5'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two of the season's biggest games are on tap tonight for Ohio's collegiate cagers.

One sends Ohio State's Buckeyes to Champaign for a game with Illinois, the other finds Toledo's Rockets in Athens for a tilt with Ohio University.

The Bucks, leading the Big Ten with 9-0, may have that mark dirtied a bit since they haven't won on the Illini floor since 1945. Illinois is tied for second with Indiana at 5-3, and before the curtain falls the Bucks must face the Hoosiers at Bloomington, defending champion Michigan State (5-5) at East Lansing, and fourth-place Minnesota (6-4) at Minneapolis.

Thus, despite their great record, the Bucks have no bed of roses the rest of the way—although they are favored highly to breeze into the throne room.

Ohio U. and Toledo are deadlocked at 8-1 for the Mid-American loop lead, no one else having a chance since Bowling Green is closest with 4-4. Ohio U.'s lone loss was 63-53 at Toledo, while Bowling Green hung the lone setback on the Rockets by 86-82.

The Athen team, due to the potent home floor advantage, could well turn the tables on the Rockets. Host clubs hold an exact 2-1 advantage over the visitors this year, having won 310 and lost 155.

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, who boosted his all-time scoring record to 2,693 for 78 games last week with a two-game 93-point surge, gets one chance to add to his national mark this week as the Bearcats go against Houston Saturday in Texas. The "Big O" has 731 points for his 20 games this year, a nation-leading average of 36.5.

Wittenberg could clinch at least a share of the Ohio Conference crown this week by beating Denison Tuesday, and Defiance could do the same in the Mid-Ohio by trimming Bluffton Wednesday. Wittenberg, seeking its second straight crown in the sprawling Ohio loop, has a 9-0 record to second-place Muskingum's 9-2, while Defiance with 8-1 is far ahead of runnerup Ohio Northern's 6-3.

The big oddity in the Mid-Ohio is that Ashland, averaging 100.4 points for 10 games, has been able to win only six. The Eagles smothered Cedarville 134 to 93 Saturday—the season's top score in the state—after beating Lawrence Tech 102-93 the night before.

The Buckeye clubs continue to batter out-of-state opposition. Last week the Ohio's won 17 and lost 12 in interstate play, for a season record of 174-108, and a scoring advantage of 21,879 to 20,371.

Kingston Tops Scioto, 53-33

Kingston won its 11th game of the season Saturday night as it downed Scioto, 53-33, in the finale for both quints.

The Redskins, playing without the services of the injured Danny Vollmar and Roy Congrove, were never headed after a 13-8 first quarter lead. They led at intermission, 29-15 and at the end of the third period, 37-25.

Bill Carman captured scoring honors for the evening with 16 points, followed by teammates David Nogle and Bill Chaffin with 13 and 12 markers respectively.

Bob Whiteside was high for the Buffaloes with nine points. While Kingston was driving to its 11th win against seven losses, Scioto was dropping its 12th encounter as compared to five wins.

Scioto salvaged the reserve battle, 48-38. It was a fifth victory against 12 losses. Kingston finished the year with an 8-8 slate.

Wilmington GI in England Winning with Has-Been Nag

LONDON (AP)—They say you should never look a gift horse in the mouth.

Capt. Francis Sadowski of the U.S. Air Force remembered this when a friend he met in a pub made him a present of a broken-down racehorse.

It's as well he did. The horse, named Happier Landings, promptly won two races in eight days and netted Sadowski nearly $1,120.

"He's been given away twice," Sadowski said.

"Can't think why, to look at him. He looks as fit as a fiddle. I'm sure he'll win a lot more races yet."

Sadowski, 39, is serving with a U.S. Air Force unit at Prestbury, near Cheltenham in western England. He has been in Britain four years.

One day recently he was filling in his soccer pool coupons as he downed a pint of English ale in a Cheltenham pub.

Racehorse trainer John Roberts, spied Sadowski.

"Why waste your money on that?" Roberts said. "Try horse racing."

"Sure," Sadowski replied "that's why I'm playing the pools—to win some money to buy a horse."

"Okay," said Roberts. "You're a race-horse owner. You can have Happier Landings."

Happier Landings is 9 years old. He's had bad luck all his career. He met with an accident in 1956 that put him out of racing. He came back, but broke down in a race at Worcester two years ago.

So he was given to Roberts, free. Roberts put him on a farm to recuperate.

"Don't laugh," Sadowski said. "John actually used him as a trainer's hack last year. He used to ride him on his rounds of the stables."

"The horse seemed finished. But you don't know Happier Landings. John decided he is fit to race again. And he gave him to me."

It's the first time Sadowski has owned a horse, though he used to spend a lot of time at the local trotting track back home at Wilmington, Ohio.

"Now the prize money's rolling," he said. "And Happier Landings is looking great."

Gold Medal Cage Tourney Slated At Zanesville

The 4th annual South Zanesville ball Tournament will be held in the Maysville High School Gymnasium on March 15, 16, 17, 18, 19.

There will be eighteen trophies awarded. They are for the championship, runner-up, two semi-final losers, highest scorer, most valuable player, best dressed team, best team sportsmanship, five first all tournament team selections, five second all tournament team selections.

The tournament will be limited to sixteen teams. The entry fee is $20. Deadline for entries is March 1. Play is based on single elimination.

Entry blanks may be obtained from Bob Wolfe, tournament secretary, Conwell Candy Company, 617 Linden Ave., Zanesville.

The tournament is co-sponsored by the Muskingum Valley Old-Timers Baseball Assn. of Zanesville, and the Maysville High School Athletic Department. All of the proceeds are to further amateur sports in this area.

Boosters Call Special Meeting

Officers and directors of the Circleville Booster Club will hold a special meeting tonight at the high school.

President Charles Hart said the session will start at 8 p. m. in the social rooms.

CHS Gym To House Ross Cage Tourney

Ross County Basketball Tournament action starts Thursday in the Circleville High School gymnasium.

Three games are scheduled opening night. Buckskin (5-13) starts against Chillicothe Central Catholic (9-9) at 6:30 p. m.

The second game starts at 8:15 p. m. It pits Kingston (11-7) against Union (4-14). The third game, at 9:30 p. m., finds Huntington (10-8) meeting Southeastern (9-9).

The second night of play in the nine-team tourney will be Saturday. Frankfort (12-6) battles Centralia (8-9) at 7:30 p. m. The second game at 9 p. m. has Clarksburg (17-1), league winner, facing the Buckskin-Chillicothe CC victor.

THE SEMI-FINALS are slated for February 26 and the final is scheduled for February 27 at 8 p. m. A Kingston win would place it in the semifinals which are to be played at 7 and 8:15 p. m. February 26.

Two teams will enter the sectional at Wellston the week of February 28. Doors for the tourney will open one hour prior to gametime.

Top 4 Mid-Ohio Teams To Battle

ADA, Ohio (AP)—The top four teams in the Mid-Ohio League will battle for Ohio's berth in the national NAIA basketball tournament at Kansas City March 7-12.

The Ohio tournament—held by District 22 of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics—will be played at Bluffton College Feb. 29-March 1.

District 22 representatives, meeting here Sunday, selected league-leading Defiance (8-1) to compete with the second, third and fourth place finishers in the Mid-Ohio. In those spots now are Ohio Northern (6-3), Ashland (6-4), and Wilmington (5-4).

Thompson Wins '500' Classic; Wofford Auto Participates

A car owned by John Wofford of Circleville participated in the NAS-CAR "500" late model stock car classic yesterday at Daytona Beach, Fla.

The noted speed event was won by Robert Junior Thompson, a 20-year-old farmer from Ronda, N. C. He was crowned Daytona International Speedway "500" champion.

Charles (Red Farmer) drove the 200-horsepower Ford, owned by Wofford and sponsored by Kenny Hannan Ford. He qualified for the main event Saturday.

Several Pickaway Counties

Three Contests Open Fairfield Cage Tourney

The Fairfield County Basketball Tournament starts Thursday in the Denison University Fieldhouse, Granville.

Three contests open the tourney. Millersport (9-9) meets Bremen (12-6) at 6:30 p. m. in the opener. The second game at 8 p. m. pits Amanda (10-5) against Pleasantville (7-11).

The final tilt finds Thurston (4-12) battling Berne Union (2-16) at 9:30 p. m. The second night of the cage tourney is slated for Saturday.

Stoutsville (13-4) starts the evening of action at 7:30 p. m. against Rushville (2-16). The second game at 9 p. m. has Carroll (9-9) meeting the winner of the Amanda-Pleasantville contest.

THIRD NIGHT action is scheduled for next Monday. Liberty Union (12-6) meets the Millersport-Bremen winner at 7:30 p. m.

The second encounter at 9 p. m. pits Pickerington (16-2) against the Thurston-Berne Union victor. A Stoutsville win would put it into the league winner, on February 25. The finals are scheduled for February 27.

Fairfield County will send three teams into the district tournament. Pickerington automatically enters the district by virtue of its league championship.

Laurelville, Carthage Troy Game Cancelled

Laurelville had its second game in as many weeks cancelled Saturday night when Carthage-Troy was unable to reach the Hocking County school due to bad weather.

Carthage-Troy, the state's fourth-ranked squad, will meet Laurelville Saturday in the re-scheduled match. The battle will mark the third contest in five days for the Wildcats.

Tomorrow Laurelville travels to Union Furnace in a Hocking County League contest. Friday the Wildcats entertain Murray City in another league game and Saturday face the invading Perry County school.

2 Big Games Tonight Face Ohio Cagers

Buckeyes Scheduled Against Illini; OU To Host Toledo '5'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two of the season's biggest games are on tap tonight for Ohio's collegiate cagers.

One sends Ohio State's Buckeyes to Champaign for a game with Illinois, the other finds Toledo's Rockets in Athens for a tilt with Ohio University.

The Bucks, leading the Big Ten with 9-0, may have that mark dirtied a bit since they haven't won on the Illinois floor since 1945. Illinois is tied for second with Indiana at 5-3, and before the curtain falls the Bucks must face the Hoosiers at Bloomington, defending champion Michigan State (5-5) at East Lansing, and fourth-place Minnesota (6-4) at Minneapolis.

Thus, despite their great record, the Bucks have no bed of roses the rest of the way—although they are favored highly to breeze into the throne room.

Ohio U. and Toledo are deadlocked at 8-1 for the Mid-American loop lead, no one else having a chance since Bowling Green is closest with 4-4. Ohio U.'s lone loss was 63-53 at Toledo, while Bowling Green hung the lone setback on the Rockets by 86-52.

The Athens team, due to the potent home floor advantage, could well turn the tables on the Rockets. Host clubs hold an exact 2-1 advantage over the visitors this year, having won 310 and lost 155.

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, who boosted his all-time scoring record to 2,603 for 78 games last week with a two-game 93-point surge, gets one chance to add to his national mark this week as the Bearcats go against Houston Saturday in Texas. The "Big O" has 731 points for his 20 games this year, a nation-leading average of 36.5.

Wittenberg could clinch at least a share of the Ohio Conference crown this week by beating Denison Tuesday, and Defiance could do the same in the Mid-Ohio by trimming Bluffton Wednesday. Wittenberg, seeking its second straight crown in the sprawling Ohio loop, has a 9-0 record to second-place Muskingum's 9-2, while Defiance with 8-1 is far ahead of runnerup Ohio Northern's 6-3.

The big oddity in the Mid-Ohio is that Ashland, averaging 109.4 points for 10 games, has been able to win only six. The Eagles smothered Cedarville 134 to 93 Saturday—the season's top score in the state—after beating Lawrence Tech 102-93 the night before.

The Buckeye clubs continue to batter out-of-state opposition. Last week the Ohio's won 17 and lost 12 in interstate play, for a season record of 174-108, and a scoring advantage of 21,879 to 20,371.

Plush Cleveland Drink Spot Is Raided Again

CLEVELAND (AP)—State liquor agents and Cleveland police raided a plush East Side after-hours drinking spot Sunday for the second time in six weeks. Two men were arrested and two dozen others released. Arrested were Sandy Dubio and Phillip Bonna-donna, the same pair arrested in a raid New Year's Eve.

Kingston Tops Scioto, 53-33

Kingston won its 11th game of the season Saturday night as it downed Scioto, 53-33, in the finale for both squads.

The Redskins, playing without the services of the injured Danny Vollmar and Roy Congrove, were never headed after a 13-8 first quarter lead. They led at intermission, 29-15 and at the end of the third period, 37-25.

Bill Carmean captured scoring honors for the evening with 16 points, followed by teammates David Nogle and Bill Chaffin with 13 and 12 markers respectively.

Bob Whiteside was high for the Buffaloes with nine points. While Kingston was driving to its 11th win against seven losses, Scioto was dropping its 12th encounter as compared to five wins.

Scioto salvaged the reserve battle, 48-38. It was a fifth victory against 12 losses. Kingston finished the year with an 8-8 slate.

SPORTS

The Circleville Herald, Mon. February 15, 1960 7
Circleville, Ohio

Wilmington GI in England Winning with Has-Been Nag

LONDON (AP)—They say you should never look a gift horse in the mouth.

Capt. Francis Sadowski of the U.S. Air Force remembered this when a friend he met in a pub made him a present of a broken-down racehorse.

It's as well he did. The horse, named Happier Landings, promptly won two races in eight days and netted Sadowski nearly $1,120.

"He's been given away twice," Sadowski said.

"Can't think why, to look at him. He looks as fit as a fiddle. I'm sure he'll win a lot more races yet."

Sadowski, 39, is serving with a U.S. Air Force unit at Prestbury, near Cheltenham in western England. He has been in Britain four years.

One day recently he was filling in his soccer pool coupons as he dined a pint of English ale in a Cheltenham pub.

Racehorse trainer John Roberts, "Why waste your money on that?" Roberts said. "Try horse racing."

"Sure," Sadowski replied. "That's why I'm playing the pools—to win some money to buy a horse."

"Okay," said Roberts. "You're a race-horse owner. You can have Happier Landings."

Happier Landings is 9 years old. He had bad luck all his career. He met with an accident in 1956 that put him out of racing. He came back, but broke down in a race at Worcester two years ago.

So he was given to Roberts, free. Roberts put him on a farm to recuperate.

"Don't laugh," Sadowski said. "John actually used him as a trainer's hack last year. He used to ride him on his rounds of the stables."

"The horse seemed finished. But you don't know Happier Landings. John decided he is fit to race again. And he gave him to me."

It's the first time Sadowski has owned a horse, though he used to spend a lot of time at the local trotting track back home at Wilmington, Ohio.

"Now the prize money's rolling," he said. "And Happier Landings is looking great."

Gold Medal Cage Tourney Slated At Zanesville

The 4th annual South Zanesville ball Tournament will be held in the Mayville High School Gymnasium on March 15, 16, 17, 18, 19.

There will be eighteen trophies awarded. They are for the championship, runner-up, two semi-final losers, highest scorer, most valuable player, best dressed team, best team sportsmanship, five first all tournament team selections, five second all tournament team selections.

The tournament will be limited to sixteen teams. The entry fee is $20. Deadline for entries is March 1. Play is based on single elimination.

Entry blanks may be obtained from Bob Wolfe, tournament secretary, Conwell Candy Company, 617 Linden Ave., Zanesville.

The tournament is co-sponsored by the Muskingum Valley Old-Timers Baseball Assn. of Zanesville, and the Mayville High School Athletic Department. All of the proceeds are to further amateur sports in this area.

Boosters Call Special Meeting

Officers and directors of the Circleville Booster Club will hold a special meeting tonight at the high school.

President Charles Hart said the session will start at 8 p. m. in the social rooms.

CHS Gym To House Ross Cage Tourney

Ross County Basketball Tournament action starts Thursday in the Circleville High School gymnasium.

Three games are scheduled opening night. Buckskin (5-12) starts against Chillicothe Central Catholic (9-9) at 6:30 p. m.

The second game starts at 8:15 p. m. It pits Kingston (11-7) against Union (4-14). The third game, at 9:30 p. m., finds Huntington (10-8) meeting Southeastern (9-9).

The second night of play in the nine-team tourney will be Saturday. Frankfort (12-6) battles Centralia (8-9) at 7:30 p. m. The second game at 9 p. m. has Clarkburg (17-1), league winner, facing the Buckskin-Chillicothe CC victor.

THE SEMI-FINALS are slated for February 26 and the final is scheduled for February 27 at 8 p. m. A Kingston win would place it in the semifinals which are to be played at 7 and 8:15 p. m. February 28.

Two teams will enter the sectional at Wellston the week of February 28. Doors for the tourney will open one hour prior to gametime.

Top 4 Mid-Ohio Teams To Battle

ADA, Ohio (AP)—The top four teams in the Mid-Ohio League will battle for Ohio's berth in the national NAIA basketball tournament at Kansas City March 7-12.

The Ohio tournament—held by District 22 of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics—will be played at Bluffton College Feb. 29-March 1.

District 22 representatives, meeting here Sunday, selected league-leading Defiance (8-1) to compete with the second, third and fourth place finishers in the Mid-Ohio. In those spots now are Ohio Northern (6-3), Ashland (6-4), and Wilmington (5-4).

College Cagers Keep Eye on Tournaments

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

College basketball powers, heading toward their annual March madness, move tonight into a three-week production subtitled "Impress the Tournament Committees."

Formally, seven of the 12 berths in the National Invitation Tournament and all but two of 12 possible at-large spots in the National Collegiate Championships are open.

Informally, the teams who don't qualify by winning conference championships are battling for only a handful of places with many of them pegged for announcement to tournament places within the next week or so.

The NIT, for instance, is sure to name defending champion St. John's (N.Y.) and streaking St. Bonaventure — perhaps today — as additions to a field that already includes Dayton, Villanova, Detroit, Memphis State and Providence.

It's also next to a cinch that the NIT is holding open two places for runners-up in the Skyline and Missouri Valley conferences, which send their league winners into the NCAA, and probably a spot for either St. Joseph's (Pa.) or La Salle, whichever loses out in the race to represent the Middle Atlantic Conference in the NCAA.

Cincinnati and Bradley, running one-two in the nation while sharing the Missouri Valley Conference lead, each have one league game this week — Cincinnati at Houston Saturday and Bradley at North Texas State the same night.

Hanson Is Winner Of St. Pete Test

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)

— Beverly Hanson, who played out of the money last year, is the new St. Petersburg Women's Open golf champion.

The Palm Desert, Calif., golfer said "the cups were just bigger for me" as she toured the 6,116-yard Sunset Country Club Course four times for a 72-hole card of 287. Her windup Sunday included three birdies and 13 pars. Miss Hanson won $1,247 in the $7,500 tournament.

Louise Suggs of Atlanta was two strokes off the Californian's pace on the final round and that was the margin by which she landed in second place. She won $961. Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, was third at 290 and won $760.

2 Men Captured In Marion Burglary

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Two men were caught in the act of trying to burglarize a safe at a supermarket near here Saturday night. Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Rife, who surprised the pair at work, fired two shots and the burglars fled through a side door—into the arms of waiting policemen.

Held in county jail pending filing of charges are Donald Arthur Andrich, 23, of Rt. 1, Galena, and Richard Wilson Stump, 22, of Marion. Deputies said the two admitted two burglaries in Marion, one of which netted $1,500, and five others in Delaware.

Probers Silent On Kidnaping Of Beer Baron

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)—The investigation of the disappearance of Adolph Coors III went on in official silence today.

The wealthy brewer and industrialist vanished six days ago on a rural road along the Rocky Mountain foothills.

The FBI has said only that its investigation is continuing. Sheriff Art Wermuth left his office here to attend a meeting with FBI officials Sunday night. He did not disclose the location or the purpose of the meeting.

Wermuth repeated his earlier belief that the millionaire chairman of the Adolph Coors Co. was kidnaped.

The Denver Post quoted an FBI official in Washington as saying that federal agents are working on this same presumption.

Coors, 44, vanished last Tuesday morning while driving to work from his foothills home.

His carryall-type vehicle, its engine running and the radio playing, was found abandoned on a wooden bridge south of here. Blood smears were found on the seat of the vehicle.

A woman who lives less than a quarter-mile from the bridge said she has told the FBI she heard a gunshot and loud voices from that direction the morning Coors disappeared.

When Abraham Lincoln's eyesight began to fail during the Lincoln-Douglas debates, he bought a pair of eyeglasses. Cost: 38 cents.

Youth Goes To Pray, Then Steals in Church

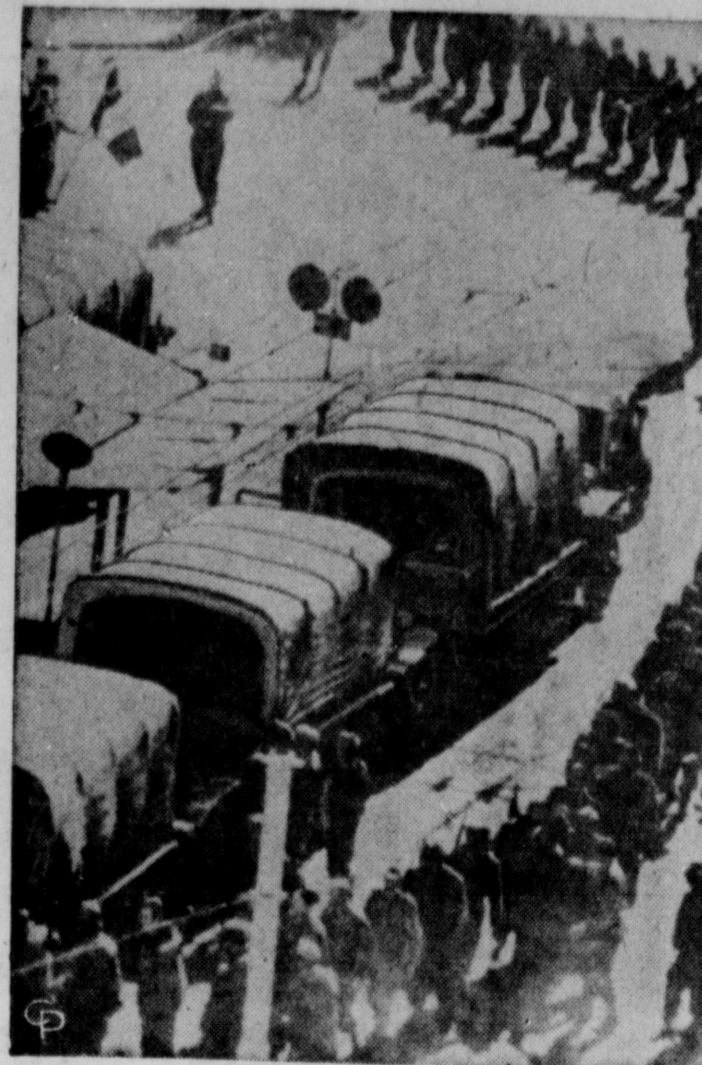

CLEVELAND (AP)—Wickliffe police are questioning a youth they say admitted going to churches to pray, then breaking into coin boxes to steal money meant for the poor.

The 18-year-old youth, who lives in Mentor-on-the-Lake, hitchhiked to Catholic churches in Wickliffe, Cleveland, Euclid, Willowick, Painesville and Willoughby, police said. He was arrested at his home after a priest at Mount Carmel Church in Wickliffe provided a description. The youth admitted breaking into the church offices Thursday night, police said.

Steel Users Alert Against Overstocking

CLEVELAND (AP)—Now that uninterrupted production is assured, steel users are guarding against overstocking of finished steel.

This was reported today by Steel magazine, which said that consumers this month will get eight million tons of finished steel products, use 6.4 million tons and add 1.6 million tons to stockpiles.

In January, users received 8½ million tons, used 6.8 million and added 1.7 million tons to inventory.

The metalworking weekly predicted that a buyer's market will return to the steel industry by April. Instead of rationing tonnage, producers will be scrambling for orders, it added.

"The unexpectedly rapid build-up of consumer stockpiles came much quicker than had been anticipated when the steel settlement was reached," Steel said.

The publication said most products will be easy to get by April,

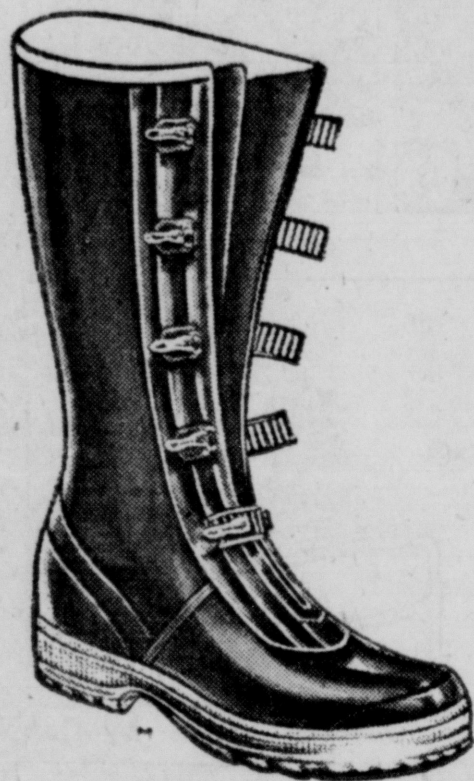

but some will stay tight a while longer.

"Flat rolled steel will probably be in strong demand through June," it added. "Tin plate and galvanizing facilities are booked solidly through the first half (of the year) and beyond. Cold rolled sheets look good through June. But if auto makers cut buying programs by 5 per cent, cold rolled steel will be available to smaller consumers."
